Big Brush Fire Slows But Still Menaces Town

Blaze Less Than Two Miles From Altadena, Calif.

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A big brush fire, which raced madly out of control, slowed Wednesday after licking the very doorsteps of expensive homes. But firemen feared it might flare dangerously again.

The blaze has charred more than 2,500 acres since it started Tuesday. Wednesday it burned slowly toward the foothill community of Altadena. By evening it was a mile and a half away.

Thirty tubercular patients were evacuated from the La Vina Sanatorium in a canyon above Altadena. This was a precautionary measure to prevent a traffic jam should quick evacuation become necessary.

Wind Major Factor

Authorities said if the wind rises it could sweep the blaze quickly down on Altadena, which has many homes adjacent to brushland.

High winds Tuesday night swept a wall of fire down upon a row of expensive homes in the suburb of La Canada, just west of Altadena. One mansion was severely damaged. Two homes were partially burned.

The fire, 2,000 acres and out of control along all of its 25-mile perimeter, centered on an isolated wilderness area accessible only by air and to men on foot.

It was driven by erratic wind gusts up to 35 m.p.h. The temperature was over 90.

Cigaret Blamed

The fire broke out at noon Tuesday along Angeles Crest Highway, which links Los Angeles with the Mojave Desert. Investigators think it was from a carelessly thrown cigarette.

Whipped by hot dry winds, it spread swiftly through the San Gabriel Mountains 15 miles north of downtown Los Angeles.

More than 1,000 men, including Indian experts flown from Arizona and New Mexico, were on the lines. Fifteen tanker planes dropped fire-retarding borate solution on hot spots.

The scene is the brushy hills overlooking the Los Angeles basin and such landmarks as the Rose Bowl. A few miles east, not endangered, is famed Mt. Wilson Observatory.

Young Kidnapers Gets 4-7 Years

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)—Raymond A. McMahon, 17, Wednesday drew a maximum 4- to 7-year prison sentence for kidnaping a 7-year-old girl whose mother ran him down in an auto and rescued her daughter.

The youth pleaded guilty to luring Sally Carroll of suburban Hapeville into a car and driving off with her June 17.

Judge Jephtha C. Tanksley responded that they might be able to persuade the Department of Corrections to send him to a mental hospital.

Sally and her mother, Mrs. R. E. Carroll Jr., waited in a nearby room while McMahon was sentenced. Prosecutor Tom Luck said they were too nervous and upset to attend the trial.

Mrs. Carroll chased down the kidnapers within minutes after he left with her daughter. She rammed the abduction car, which the youth had parked and attempted to start. Sally was thrown clear and McMahon fled. He later turned himself in.

Police said young McMahon had come to Atlanta from Chicago only two months before the kidnaping and was living with his grandmother.

Ike Marks His 69th Birthday With Jet Trip

Eisenhower Flies Back To Capital From Abilene, Kan.

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower, 69 years old Wednesday and not acting anything like it, marked his birthday with a jet plane trip from Kansas to Washington.

Not even a steady rain—the kind that makes golf out of the question—dimmed the famous Eisenhower smile as the President stepped from his plane.

He had just come in from a particularly significant birthday celebration at Abilene, Kan., where he helped break ground for a library that will store his presidential and military papers.

Greeted By Army Chorus

Eisenhower was just a year old when his parents, David and Ida Stover Eisenhower, moved with their family from Denison, Tex., to Abilene.

At Abilene Wednesday morning, the President was treated by high school students and their band to a special rendition of "Happy Birthday."

There was still another "Happy Birthday" song at the White House, this by the Army chorus which had assembled there as a surprise. The chorus also sounded forth with two other more or less appropriate songs, "Army Blue" and "Yellow Rose of Texas."

Quiet Family Dinner

At the White House Wednesday night there was a quiet family birthday dinner for a family man.

Mrs. Eisenhower, who had been kept in bed for the last few days by a bad cold, decided not to miss this dinner.

Also with her and the President the White House listed their son, Maj. John Eisenhower, and his wife, Barbara, Col. and Mrs. G. Gordon Moore — Mrs. Moore is Mrs. Eisenhower's sister—and the Moore's 17-year-old daughter Marie.

4 Die In Blast At Nuclear Lab Disposal Area

LOS ALAMOS, N.M. (AP)—Something slipped in a truckload of waste high explosive near the Los Alamos scientific laboratory Wednesday, causing an explosion that killed four men.

Spokesmen for the atomic laboratory city said no radioactive materials were involved. Not even parts of two of the bodies could be found. The two men were listed as missing and presumed dead.

The blast took place at a disposal dump at the top secret site two miles south of Los Alamos. The truck was demolished but no other damage reported.

The dead were identified as Leopoldo Pacheco and Sevedo Duran. Missing and presumed dead were Jose C. Cordova and Escobar Martinez. All were laboratory nontechnical employees.

The laboratory said the four were on a routine job of hauling high explosive scraps — mostly TNT—to the dump for burning. High explosive is used in many experiments on atomic weapons development.

A laboratory spokesman said the accident apparently happened while the truck was being unloaded.

U.S. Seeks U.N. Study Of Police Force Question

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—The United States called Wednesday for a U.N. study on what kind of international police force should preserve peace if the world accepts Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's total disarmament plan.

U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge made the proposal in the 82-nation U.N. Political Committee where debate has started on approaches to disarmament put forth by Khrushchev and Western leaders.

Lodge said the United States sought specific answers also to these questions:

1. What principles of international law should govern use of an international police force?
2. What internal security forces would be required by nations if they agreed to put down their arms?

He promised that the United States will give the Soviet proposal "the most serious scrutiny." But he also stressed the importance U.S. negotiators will put on controls.

"There cannot be 100 per cent disarmament with only 10 per cent inspection," he declared.

Lodge said that the West does not know what inspection and control the Soviet Union would accept to put across the Khrushchev plan.

He said he put priority on a controlled cessation of nuclear weapons tests because it "is nearest to realization." But he singled out three other aspects for consideration:

1. Reducing the threat of surprise attack.
2. Gaining experience in the actual operation of a workable system of control.
3. Lightening the weight of all armaments, both conventional and nuclear.

Girl, 15, Kills Her Parents With Roach Poison Drink

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP)—A 15-year-old girl sobbed "I must be crazy" Wednesday shortly after she admitted killing her parents by persuading them to drink poison.

Diane Roberts, tall, slim high school sophomore, told officers, "I did it because Mom and Dad were always criticizing everything I did. Daddy beat me Sunday night and threatened to kill me."

Relatives called to the home in suburban Prairie Village, Kan., Tuesday night found William F. Roberts, 43, and his wife, Evelyn, 42, violently ill. They were rushed to a hospital where both died within four hours.

Sheriff Lynn Thomas and Detective William Heck of Johnson County, Kan., said the girl told them in a matter-of-fact manner how she first intended to make her parents sick and then changed her story and said she wanted "to kill my father before he kills me."

She said she mixed up some roach powder, grape juice, sugar and water and offered the drinks to her parents with the explanation it was "a thrill powder and would give them a boost."

"They drank some and started laughing real hard," the officers quoted her. "Then she and Dad gagged and said it was terrible and both got real sick."

"Daddy stood at the bottom of the stairs and screamed, 'God help me, God help me, please take care of me.' Then he laid down on the floor."

Roberts, former vice president of a Kansas City real estate firm, had been working recently as a part-time counselor for an investment service.

Diane, an only child, had been receiving out-patient treatment at a mental hospital.

"Hot Spot" Flares In California Canyon

Two Cabinet Ministers Fired By Macmillan

LONDON (UPI)—Prime Minister Harold Macmillan shook up and streamlined his Conservative government Wednesday in a follow-up to his landslide election victory. He fired two cabinet ministers and switched seven others to different jobs.

Among those transferred in the shuffle was Defense Minister Duncan Sandys, son-in-law of Sir Winston Churchill, who was given the newly created post of aviation minister. Sandys will be responsible for Britain's guided missile program.

Sandys was replaced as minister of defense by Harold Watkinson, former minister of transport. Macmillan created a new ministerial job with overall responsibility for Britain's nuclear, space and other scientific research programs. The post went to Lord Hailsham, former Conservative Party chairman who masterminded Macmillan's victorious election campaign.

Dropped from the government were controversial former Minister of Colonies Alan Lennox-Boyd, Minister of Education Geoffrey Lloyd and Supply Minister Aubrey Jones. The latter did not have a formal cabinet seat. Government sources said the supply ministry will be abolished.

Lennox-Boyd, who had come under heavy fire for his policies on Cyprus and Nyasaland, returned to private business.

Lennox-Boyd was replaced by former minister of labor Iain Macleod. Named secretary of state for education in place of Lloyd was Sir David Eccles, formerly president of the board of trade.

The shake-up, announced after three days of intensive conferences at Number 10 Downing Street, was designed to clear the home front decks and leave Macmillan free to concentrate on his goal of speeding up an East-West summit conference.

Three Die In Crash Of Private Plane

JONESVILLE, Mich. (UPI)—A small private plane crashed in a fog filled pasture early Wednesday killing two Air Force men and the father of one of them.

The victims were airman 3C Thomas C. Hatke, 23, La Fayette, Ind., S.Sgt. Eugene R. Burnham, Bronson, Mich., and Burnham's father, Christy R., 63, also of Bronson.

Hatke was piloting the plane, owned by a flying club made up of Air Force and civilian personnel at Selfridge Air Force Base near Mount Clemens, Mich.

John Feels Pinch

BALTIMORE (AP)—City Council President Philip H. Goodman lost a $3,000 John Wednesday.

Bids on the private lavatory ranged from $3,300 to $6,000 but Goodman announced he was abandoning his request.

"In view of the budgetary crisis which has arisen since I first asked for the private washroom," he said, "it is necessary to abandon many projects which are not of a vital nature."

Van Doren Accepts TV Quiz Subpoena

Big Winner Refuses To Answer Questions

NEW YORK (AP)—Charles Van Doren came out of seclusion Wednesday and made a Nov. 2 date with a congressional committee probing fixed television quiz shows. He would say nothing of his own big money quiz winnings in advance of his Washington testimony.

Van Doren, who disappeared nearly a week ago, accepted a subpoena to appear before the House committee. In hearings last week—now recessed until next month—the committee elicited testimony that some quiz show participants were provided in advance with questions and answers.

Among the tainted shows named was NBC's now defunct "Twenty-One," on which Van Doren won $129,000 in 14 weeks as a participant in 1956-57. The committee wants to know if the 33-year-old Columbia University English instructor took part in the admitted shenanigans. At one time, Van Doren publicly disclaimed any knowledge of such trickery. Wednesday he wouldn't talk about the subject.

When the committee resumes hearings next month, it also plans to look into the first of the big money quiz shows, CBS's "$64,000 Question."

Counsel Robert W. Lishman said in Washington the subcommittee has received information indicating that program also was fixed. The announcement brought a spate of statements from former participants on the "$64,000 Question" and its companion show, the "$64,000 Challenge," who insisted both programs were honest and fair.

Van Doren met newsmen briefly after accepting his subpoena. He would answer no questions. Instead, he read a statement prepared on sheets of yellow paper.

He said he was distressed last Thursday when NBC suspended him as a $50,000-a-year network consultant pending the outcome of the Washington probe. He obtained the network spot as the outgrowth of his "Twenty-One" appearance.

He arranged for a leave of absence from his $4,200-a-year teaching post at Columbia. Van Doren went on, and went north to "find some solace in the October beauty of New England."

But Almond said in the South, "a choice must be made to close the public schools or accommodate to the situation within the framework of the law."

In electing Almond his fellow governors passed up Gov. Orval E. Faubus of Arkansas, the central figure in the Little Rock school crisis.

At the executive session which ended the 25th annual meeting here, the conference also adopted resolutions urging President Eisenhower and Congress to restore cuts in federal highway fund allocations to the states; approving a 16-state nuclear energy compact; and authorizing continued study of the impact of foreign imports on domestic economy.

Soviet Attache Mum After State Dept. Call

WASHINGTON (AP) — Mikhail N. Smirnovsky, No. 2 man in the Soviet Embassy, paid an eight-minute call at the State Department Wednesday.

Smirnovsky met with Undersecretary of State Robert Murphy and afterward refused to tell newsmen anything about his purpose.

"I can't tell you anything," Smirnovsky said when newsmen asked whether his call had anything to do with Khrushchev's promise to talk with Red China's leader about five Americans imprisoned in Red Chinese jails.

Missile-Killer Rocket Flight Called Success

WHITE SANDS MISSILE RANGE, N.M. (AP)—A Nike-Zeus missile—designed to kill ICBMs—made its maiden test flight Wednesday across the southern New Mexico desert.

Army spokesmen termed the test a success, although the missile fell short of its goal because of an apparent failure during the coasting phase of the missile's flight.

Both stages of the powerful missile fired, and information of flight and propulsion characteristics were telemetered to the ground.

Nike-Zeus is the Army's top-secret answer—it hopes—to intercontinental ballistic missiles. It carries a hydrogen warhead on top of what the Army bills as "the most powerful known single unit propellant rocket motor ever fired." It packs 400,000 pounds of thrust.

It is designed to head off ICBMs while they are still in the stratosphere en route from enemy bases, and to destroy them with a fusion explosion.

Both stages of the Nike-Zeus went off on schedule. The first attempt at a Nike-Zeus test at White Sands Aug. 26 ended when the missile fell apart in the air.

Only a brief run 70 miles down-range was scheduled. It was after both the booster first stage and the sustaining second stage cut off and the missile was gliding on its way that something happened which made the missile fall short of the expected impact area.

Only flight and propulsion characteristics of Nike-Zeus are being tested at White Sands.

Range, performance characteristics and pictures of the missile have not been released. A manufacturer's catalogue available to the public gives the Nike-Zeus range as 200 miles.

Champion Liar Runs For Office

TACOMA, Wash. (AP)—John P. Zelenak announced his candidacy Wednesday for mayor—but nobody knows whether to believe him.

Zelenak, a physical therapist, said he will run on the "Liars' ticket" and his platform will be "absolutely no promises."

He won the title of world champion liar in 1938 in the annual competition sponsored by the Burlington, Wis., Liar's Club.

'Copter Finds Abducted Girl; Kidnapers Captured

GRETNA, La. (UPI)—A for-who smiled bravely when deputies found her, was in good condition and had not been molested.

Bordenave, a vacant-looking-for-mer mental patient with a record of six arrests for molesting minors, said he kidnaped Lona Ann to "use her as a hostage so I could get to Mexico where they couldn't put me away again."

"I'm about $400 in debt and I don't have a job," the husky emerged carrying 9-year-old Lona Bordenave said. "My mother threatened to call the district attorney if I didn't pay my bills."

"I only got out of Jackson (State Mental Hospital) a year ago and a word from my mother back in."

Bordenave insisted he didn't hurt Lona Ann. He said he turned her loose about two hours after he kidnaped her.

Fact-Finders Given Extra Three Days

Panel Has More Time To Strive For Settlement

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower's inquiry panel, still plugging against odds for settlement of the marathon steel strike, Wednesday was granted an added three days for handing its report to the White House.

Eisenhower agreed to move back his deadline for receiving the report from Friday to Monday. The President must get the report, detailing the facts in the dispute, before he can order the Justice Department to seek an 80-day, strike-stopping injunction.

The extension gives the three-man inquiry board more time to try to wangle a peace pact.

That would make a report unnecessary. Panel Chairman George W. Taylor, a veteran mediator of labor disputes, said: "Naturally, our aim is to avoid filing any report at all."

Taylor said his panel needed more time anyway to assemble the voluminous testimony and exhibits presented by both sides and put them in shape for a report, in the likely event one must be filed.

Secret Session Planned

The panel, on receiving word that Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell had obtained the time extension, arranged to meet separately in secret sessions with top negotiators of the union and industry.

It was clear the panel was driving hard in the time left to break the deadlock that has blocked settlement of the 92-day strike, worst in steel industry history.

The striking United Steelworkers Union completed its arguments on the strike issues Tuesday night.

R. Conrad Cooper, executive vice president of U.S. Steel Corp., and chief industry negotiator, kicked off the companies' side Wednesday.

There was little outward evidence Taylor's panel has yet scored any gain toward moving both sides toward agreement.

Cooper and another leading industry negotiator, John A. Morse of Bethlehem Steel, told the inquiry panel that more management leeway in achieving labor cost economies is a precondition to any settlement of economic issues such as wage rates.

Demands Not Inflexible

Morse agreed with Taylor, however, that the industry is not adamant on how these labor cost economies are to be achieved.

Similarly, on prodding from Taylor, union President David J. McDonald agreed the Steelworkers' economic demands are also susceptible to bargaining.

This appeared to some observers to be a sort of toe-in-the-door expression from each side that the two main issues—work practice changes and economic concessions—may be subject to settlement.

"Plain hogwash," is how Cooper characterized union charges that the industry is trying to break the union. He said the industry needs relief from obsolete and unnecessarily costly work practices.

Nixon To Take Fla. Vacation

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon heads for Florida Thursday for two weeks of rest and hoped-for privacy away from the hurly burly of Washington politics.

The vacation probably will be his last before he formally opens his campaign for the Republican presidential nomination. He will be accompanied by Mrs. Nixon.

Nixon was particularly anxious to protect his privacy in Florida so he can get some much needed rest after his arduous pace of the last few months.

His office declined to reveal the vice president's departure or arrival time or even to say where he would go. However, his destination was understood to be either Miami Beach or West Palm Beach.

He will stay at the home of friends. Aides said there would be absolutely no politics and that he planned no side trips.

Nixon normally stays at a hotel on Key Biscayne just off Miami and behaves much like any other visitor when he is in Florida.

Motherwell Case Will Go To Grand Jury

DOWNIEVILLE, Calif. (AP) — Dist. Atty. Gordon I. Smith Wednesday decided to take the case of Larry Lord Motherwell, charged with killing a well-to-do Washington, D. C., widow, directly to the county grand jury Oct. 26.

Smith originally planned to hold a preliminary hearing in the village of Sierraville. He changed his mind because the grand jury action would save both time and expense.

Motherwell, handsome 43-year-old itinerant carpenter, is accused of killing Mrs. Pearl Putney while she was on a cross-country "last fling" trip with him in August, 1958. She reportedly had $50,000 in cash and negotiable securities with her when she disappeared.

Her whitened bones were found last Aug. 16, scattered deep in a woods near Sierraville.

Smith said a key witness would be Janice Hampton, a clerk in a Western Union office in San Francisco, who said she took a telegram from Motherwell on Aug. 16, 1958, signed "Pearl" and sent it to Mrs. Putney's half-brother, C. Michael Dabrohuia at Winnetka, Ill.

The clerk told officers at the time she asked Motherwell if he were the groom-to-be and he said he was sending the telegram for his aunt, who was marrying a wealthy Easterner.

Pretty Rock 'n' Roll Fan Crashes Governors' Meet

ASHEVILLE, N.C. (AP) — Janice Smiley, the 15-year-old schoolgirl who turned the Southern Governors' Conference into a dance fete, was back in class Wednesday, somewhat subdued, but still pert.

"Oh golly," she told a photographer, "I am in a mess of trouble."

While Janice was crashing the governors' meeting, her teachers thought she was home with a cold. The teachers changed their minds Wednesday morning, when they picked up their papers and saw a picture of the dignified governor of North Carolina, Luther H. Hodges, doing a "Charleston" or something to Janice's rock 'n' roll.

Janice is the pretty and vivacious daughter of a clothing store manager here. She aspires to be a reporter for the Sky High, her school newspaper, and that's the cause of her trouble.

Her teacher had told her, laughingly, that if she could get an

Mother Angered By Abdication Of Edward VIII

LONDON (AP) — A long-secret letter discloses the late Queen Mary was angered and pained by the abdication of her son, King Edward VIII in 1936 for love of American divorcee Wallis Warfield Simpson.

The old Queen had begged him not to give up the throne.

"You did not seem able to take any point of view but your own," she chided her son 18 months after he abdicated and started a semi-exile abroad with his bride as the Duke and Duchess of Windsor.

The letter forms an essential part of the official biography of Queen Mary published Wednesday. The widow of King George V, she died at 85 on March 24, 1953.

The letter was made public by permission of Queen Elizabeth II, Queen Mary's granddaughter and niece of the ex-king. She gave the biographer, James Pope-Hennessy, unrestricted access to Mary's private papers.

Canadian May Receive Nobel Medicine Prize

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP) — An Austrian-born Canadian scientist called "the Einstein of medicine" is believed to head the list of this year's Nobel medicine prize candidates.

He is Prof. Hans Selye of Montreal, who told mankind how to fight against what he calls "stress." Stockholm medical circles predicted Thursday he will win the medicine prize.

Selye, born in Vienna in 1907, for several years has been mentioned as a qualified candidate for the world's highest award in the field of medicine or physiology.

This year more secrecy has surrounded the medicine prize than in all the 58-year history of the Nobel prizes.

The Royal Caroline Institute, the awarding body, has decided to keep the name of the winner secret until the moment of the award.

The formal announcement is expected Thursday afternoon.

Doctor Appeals 'Marriage Mill' Jail Sentence

ANNAPOLIS (AP) — A physician convicted in the Elkton "marriage mill" trials challenged in the Court of Appeals Wednesday his jail sentences for issuing false certificates of pregnancy.

Attorneys for Dr. Jacob J. Greenwald argued the 63-year-old physician did not commit perjury and "at the most" should have been fined for making false statements.

Dr. Greenwald was convicted of perjury last March 24 by a Talbot County Circuit Court jury and sentenced to three years in the Maryland Penitentiary.

He and taxi driver E. Leland Ott also received three year terms for conspiring to violate Maryland's marriage laws. Greenwald's terms run concurrently. Ott was not directly involved in the appeal.

A certificate of pregnancy issued by a physician enables an underage couple to marry without parental consent in Maryland. Atty. H. Albert Young, representing Greenwald, acknowledged the physician may have made false statements but said he did not commit perjury because the certificates were not made under oath.

Dispute Over Slain Matron's Estate Settled

BALTIMORE (AP) — A dispute over the $800,000 estate of a Baltimore County society matron, slain two years ago, has been settled out of court.

Opposing attorneys revealed the settlement Wednesday when they asked that a hearing scheduled for Thursday before the Maryland Court of Appeals be cancelled.

Contesting the will were 14 cousins and two religious institutions named as beneficiaries—the Brown Memorial Presbyterian Church and the Corporation of Catholic Clergymen for the Jesuit Seminary Aid Assn.

The body of Mrs. Bernice W.F. Van Horn, 54, was found June 1, 1957. Her husband, Robert Jett Van Horn, formerly of Clarksburg, W. Va., is now serving a 10-year term in the Maryland Penitentiary.

Van Horn was convicted of manslaughter in December, 1957.

Attorneys would not comment on terms of the settlement except to say that Van Horn gets none of the money. Courts held previously that his conviction barred him from any inheritance and he had dropped any claim to the estate.

The case before Maryland's highest court was an appeal by the 14 cousins from a circuit court ruling that the estate should go to the religious institutions.

HAGERSTOWN (AP) — Five than 200 forged checks throughout Baltimore men were sentenced to the state, with most of them being four years each in prison Wednesday by Circuit Judge D. K. Mc-

Insurance Firm Will Cut Rates For Small Cars

BALTIMORE (AP) — The All-state Insurance Co. announced Wednesday it would reduce insurance premiums for small compact cars by 10 per cent in Maryland and the District of Columbia.

R.E. Collier, middle Atlantic regional manager for the firm, said the plan has been approved by the Maryland State Insurance Department.

The special rate will apply to bodily injury, property damage, collision and medical payments for private autos of limited size, weight, horsepower and price.

Collier said the reduction is being offered because "our experience in insuring compact type cars indicates that due to lower acceleration, smaller size and weight, they cause less damage in an accident."

He said cars not exceeding 2,750 pounds, 200 inches in length and 125 brake horsepower will be eligible. These include certain American makes and foreign imports.

Budget Surplus Nestegg Urged

ANNAPOLIS (AP) — A special study committee of the General Assembly says Maryland should sock away some of that anticipated 20-million-dollar surplus for a rainy day.

Specifically, the committee headed by Sen. William S. James (D-Harford) recommended that the first five million dollars of any surplus be budgeted so the governor "would not be placed in a fiscal straight jacket."

Another nestegg of five to 15 million dollars should be set aside, the group said, for making up the deficit any year when revenue falls below the budget estimate.

"The pressure of demands for new operating programs and higher standards in present programs will be formidable," the committee report said.

"If these pressures are resisted, the administration will find itself in the unenviable position of appearing to be stingy at a time when the State Treasury is overflowing with unspent revenue. Yet, if the pressures are not resisted major new taxes will follow shortly."

State Police Study Drunk Detection

PIKESVILLE, Md. (AP)—Maryland State Police are being trained on how to detect a drunken driver.

A training program on chemical tests for intoxication opened Wednesday at the Pikesville headquarters.

The troopers will be taught such matters as the legal aspects of chemical tests for drunkenness, medical aspects, operation of drunk test equipment and related subjects.

The 1959 General Assembly enacted a law legalizing the use of chemical tests for determination of the amount of alcohol in the blood of a driver suspected of being under the influence of liquor.

State Police Superintendent Carrey Jarman said breath testing equipment will be set up in each of the nine regional barracks.

Killer Paroled

BALTIMORE (AP) — Percy Blake Jr., once sentenced to die on the State Prison gallows, was paroled from penitentiary last month, the Department of Parole and Probation announced Wednesday.

Blake was sentenced to die Nov. 1, 1934, for the fatal shooting of his brother, James "Buster" Blake, on Aug. 7, 1934 in Anne Arundel County.

Condemnation Move Started For Park Land

SNOW HILL, Md. (AP) — The State Department of Forests and Parks made a legal move Wednesday aimed at acquiring 600 acres of Assateague Island for development of an ocean-front park.

Condemnation proceedings were filed in Worcester County Circuit Court against 2,808 lots on the sandy, 23-mile island which has been the subject of controversy for years.

The next step will be determining a fair price with a hearing before a jury.

A sales gimmick by a Baltimore store back in 1914 is at the root of the ownership mixup. One of the lots was given away with each $2.50 purchase and, over the years, the owners have scattered across the country.

The main supporter for state development of the island has been first patients soon after the first W. E. Green Sr., retired New York heating contractor who lives on the Worcester County mainland of the Sinepuxent Bay from the innately insane and others "likely to be transferred from Crownsville State Hospital and Spring Grove State Hospital. The remainder of a population expected to reach 300 will be committed directly by the courts.

Sign Snapped Off Conference To Study By Passing Auto Hits, Kills Woman

WASHINGTON (AP) — A freak accident was blamed Wednesday for the death of Mrs. Lulu Creighton as she waited for a streetcar in northeast Washington.

Police said Mrs. Creighton was fatally injured when a bus stop sign, apparently snapped off by a passing automobile, flew through the air and struck her on the head.

Jack W. Harville, a 59-year-old government printing office employee, was identified as the driver of the car which struck the sign. Harville was charged with making an illegal turn and ordered to appear at a coroner's inquest Friday.

Mental Hospital Nearing Completion

BALTIMORE (AP)—Maryland's new 2½ million dollar maximum security hospital at Jessup, once scheduled for occupancy this month, is expected to receive its first patients soon after the first W. E. Green Sr., retired New York heating contractor who lives on the Worcester County mainland of the Sinepuxent Bay from the innately insane and others "likely to be transferred from Crownsville State Hospital and Spring Grove State Hospital. The remainder of a population expected to reach 300 will be committed directly by the courts.

Mill Swept By Fire To Be Rebuilt

WILLIAMSPORT, Md. (AP) — The big Federal Silk Mills building which was leveled by fire will be rebuilt, the owner said Wednesday.

David Goetz said the new structure would be erected on the site of the one swept by a two million dollar fire Tuesday, putting about 200 of the town's 3,000 inhabitants out of work.

Wait Over, Boys Get $400 They Found

MIAMI (UPI)—The dream of all small boys came true Tuesday for 9-year-old Dennis Govekar and his two buddies. They pocketed $400 they found in a trash heap.

It took six months to show the boys that honesty is the best—although not the quickest—policy.

As the one who first saw the money, Dennis received $200. His companions, Bruce Hopkins, 9, and Mark Chase, 7, got $100 each.

The three boys said they were searching for material to build a nest for an injured bird when they found the money.

"It was a long wait for the boys," said Mrs. Govekar. "At first we thought they would get the money if no one claimed it after 45 days. Then the police decided a six-month wait would be necessary."

Ike Suggested As India-Pakistan Mediator

By J.M. ROBERTS
Associated Press News Analyst
Tentative discussion of an Eisenhower visit to India and Pakistan has brought the suggestion that the President, if he wished, would be in a position to offer mediation in the disputes between the two countries.

These disputes, primarily involving possession of Kashmir and division of the Indus River water, adversely affect the stability of both countries through the military expenditures they produce, and world politics through the international friends of both.

Mediation of this type is not a usual role for presidents of the United States.

As a nation, this country has by invitation or imposition frequently acted as mediator—or perhaps intervenor—is a more honest word—in Latin-American disputes.

There is precedent, however. In 1905 Theodore Roosevelt played a personal role in mediation of the Russo-Japanese war, and a peace conference which resulted in its end was actually held on American soil, at Portsmouth, N.H.

Woodrow Wilson in some ways sought to act as mediator for the conflicting interests of all Europe after World War I, but his role primarily was that of a representative of American interests.

If President Eisenhower tried to talk to Indian and Pakistani leaders about their differences it would be a still different role, although formal mediation could grow out of it. It would be something like adding prestige to the role already attempted several times by Dr. Frank P. Graham and others of the United Nations who have sought to carry back and forth a search for points of agreement.

The President might make some very persuasive points about the mutual benefits which have accrued to both the United States and Canada through their friendly association as joint occupants of a continent. There is a current display of friendliness between the United States and Mexico in another sector of this continent.

In the background of the idea that Eisenhower might help in India and Pakistan is the present situation created on India's borders by Red China, reminding both of the subcontinent's members of the British Commonwealth of their joint need of a strong defense posture. This need already has resulted in some change in the atmosphere.

Much would depend on whether the President would be welcomed in India, as in Europe recently, as a great searcher for peace, or as a commander of one side in the cold war.

Girls Refuse Glasses

LONDON (UPI)—The Laborite Daily Mirror reported Wednesday that girls under 16 are refusing to wear the old-fashioned, metal-rimmed spectacles furnished by the National Health Service.

"Why can't the health service cut a dash as well and offer free specs with a spot of glamor for the under-16's" the tabloid demanded.

Md. Censors View 1,076 Movies, Alter 19

BALTIMORE (AP)—Mary-force of their own opinions, land's Board of Motion Picture Censors looked at 1,076 movies during the 12 months ended June 30 and altered 19 of them.

Not a single film, however, was banned in its entirety. The year's work amounted to viewing more than five million feet of celluloid.

Noting that legal opinion left its power to control "embattled and weakened," the board said:

"But the citizenry may yet bring into balance the difference between the legally acceptable and the morally objectionable, by the

Answers Your Problems

DEAR ANN: I've been married 7½ years and can truthfully say I've never cheated on my wife once. But I have a problem that even a thinking man can't filter out.

My wife is so suspicious of me it's driving me nuts. If we walk on the street together and I say hello to a woman from the office my wife says, "What's going on between you two anyway?"

If I put on some hair tonic in the morning she says "Who are you getting spiffed up for?" Once I brought her a box of candy. She said "What are YOU feeling guilty about?"

I never go out alone. The only part of my check I see is the stub. I couldn't buy another woman a package of chewing gum. I knew she was jealous when I married her but like a fool I was flattered and thought it was love.

If I were to send you a snapshot of myself you'd say, "How could any woman be jealous of HIM?" I'm nothing to look at and I wear a hearing aid.

DEAR S. G.: A man who has no money to spend and never goes out alone can't be doing much cheating. But this, of course, is the rational approach, and your wife is emotional.

She was insecure about you even before marriage and will probably always be suspicious. But this is a deficiency in HER and not you. Continue to stay home where you belong, and when she starts to nag turn off the hearing aid. Maybe in time, she'll have enough confidence in herself to trust you.

DEAR ANN: The trouble is ME, spelled with foot-high capital letters. I don't know why, but I'm a rotten daughter to my parents.

Around home I'm a cranky old grouch. But with my friends it's a different story. Everyone thinks I'm sweet as honey. I'll be 16 soon, and if this s stage I'm going through it sure is lasting a long time.

My parents are really the greatest. Sometimes I get so mad at myself for treating them mean I could just die. Please, Ann, tell me how to overcome my sour disposition at home.

MISS MISERABLE: Being able to admit that the fault lies with YOU is half the battle. Most people (adults as well as kids) try to place the blame for their poor intra-personal relations on other people.

Resolve to watch your temper, hold your tongue (count 20), and be cooperative around the house.

We all have grouchy spells but the mature person learns to keep his disappointments and frustrations under control and not take them out on others—which is what you've been doing. So recognize it—and good luck.

DEAR ANN: You surely didn't give that young gal any help when she wanted to know how to keep from blabbing secrets that she promised not to tell.

I'm 39 years old and this is a problem with a great many people of all ages. Let's be honest about it, Annie. When someone gives you a delicious bit of gossip what ELSE can you do with it?

DEAR TUMBLER: You could forget it — but of course, this takes integrity.

CONFIDENTIAL TO MAD AT YOU: Sorry but it isn't possible to print every letter. I give personal advice through the mail. Please send an address and a self-addressed stamped envelope.

Are you tempted to smoke be-

L. B. Young Named To Playhouse Board

Gene Yell, director of the Garrett County Playhouse at Deep Creek and associate director of the theatre of the University of New Mexico, has announced the appointment of Louis B. Young, 439 North Centre Street, to the board of governors of the Garrett County Playhouse.

Bedford Rd. Installation To Be Jan. 3

A public turkey supper was planned and announcements were made at the meeting of the Ladies Auxiliary of the Bedford Road Firemen, held Monday evening at the fire hall. The annual turkey supper and country store will be held November 7.

Mrs. Willis Wilson presided and reported on the Allegany-Garrett Auxiliary meeting held earlier in the month at the Baltimore Pike fire hall, at which time Oldtown Auxiliary was accepted as a member. Seventy attended. The county Christmas party will be held at Barton, December 4. Mrs. Calvin Growden, member of the state ways and means committee, reported on the fall conference held at Harundale Mall Shopping Center, with 63 auxiliaries represented, including one new one. She announced that Thomas Wade of West Virginia, will be the speaker for the next state meeting April 21 at Harundale. Four Bedford Road members attended.

Mrs. Ruthella Fey, Miss Maxine Sweitzer and Mrs. Melva Little were appointed on a nominating committee. Election will be held at the November 9 meeting. Each member is to bring a sandwich, as there will be no hostesses. The Lord's Prayer was said in unison and the flag salute given. Reports were given on the dinners and the toy party. Miss Eileen Wilson and Christine Growden were visitors. Twenty members attended. Hostesses were Mrs. Mary Adams, Mrs. Ella Simons, Mrs. Mary Koontz, Mrs. Mabel Miller, Mrs. Virginia Elliott, Miss Margaret Greise and Mrs. Ella Judy.

Concluding the meeting a joint session was held with 15 of the firemen. It was decided to have a joint installation January 3. It will be in the form of a dinner meeting at the fire hall. Ralph Garland and Mrs. Melvin Little are in charge of arrangements.

The raccoon is found only in North and Central America. It is common to the whole of the United States.

November 15 a Thank Offering service will be held at 7:30 and November 22 will be the dedication of the new church.

Mrs. Heyl Walker was welcomed as a new member. Mrs. Emil Teysier was guest devotion leader. Using "Faith" as her topic she showed the relationship between faith and action, stressing that "not by work but by faith are ye saved," and closed with prayer. The group sang, "Take Time To Be Holy" and "Jesus Calls Us," with Mrs. Hugh Funkhauser at the piano.

"You and the United Nations" was the topic of discussion by Mrs. Amelia Zimmerman and Mrs. Fred Gates. The preamble of the UN Charter was read and it was pointed out the purpose is international peace and security, while the philosophy is to substitute the conference table for the battlefield.

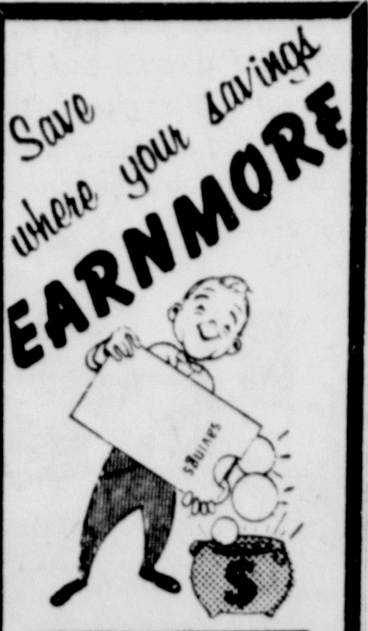

Routine business was transacted and reports were given. Mrs. Zimmerman told of visits to shut-ins and the missionary benediction was given. Twenty-one members attended. The Halloween theme was carried out in the refreshments and decorations of

HOLLYWOOD

By Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD—Bing Crosby in college is an idea that intrigues me, and that's what is going to happen in "Daddy-O," an original by Garson Kanin, which Buddy Adler bought for Charles Brackett. Who do you think are Bing's classmates? Wait 'til I tell you—Fabian and Carol Lynley! If you hear the sound of music in the background, you're right—Bingo will sing. But I'm told he has one heck of a time in school, and flunks in all his subjects.

That brilliant young man Blake Edwards is set to direct, and the movie will be well under way at 20th Century Fox come Christmas time. Thank heavens it's going to be made right in our own home town. Too many pictures are being made out of Hollywood.

Richard Burton makes no secret of his enthusiasm for beautiful eighteen-year-old Diane McBain, who is making her screen debut in Warner Brothers "Ice Palace." Richard is now conferring with Diane's father about her going to France this summer to play opposite him in "Green Gage Summer." Rumer Godden's suspense novel.

This is a story of three English teen-age sisters, all of whom fall in love with a charming crook. Dick believes Diane could master the British accent. Immediately after "Ice Palace" is finished he reports to New York for rehearsals of the Broadway musical "Jenny Kissed Me." The Godden story will be made next summer.

The set-up on "Requiem for a Massacre" at Warner Brothers is new and experimental, but it does show the way the entertainment business is going. Sometime ago the first hour of this show was shot as a part of the "Cheyenne" series, starring Clint Walker. It turned out so good that Jack Warner decided to enlarge on it and make it two hours long.

The two hour film will be released as a regular movie in Europe and the Orient and it may be released the same way in the U.S.A. However, it is now being considered to run it in two TV sessions like "What Makes Sammy Run." Julia Adams is doing a second chapter of "Requiem," which is pleasant because her husband, Ray Danton, is at Warners in "Legs Diamond."

One look at "Libel" and American fans won't long wonder why Dick Bogarde is the most popular actor in England. This suspense drama rates in the distinguished category of "Witness for the Prosecution" with Bogarde playing no mere dual role, but three characters, and all of them superlatively. His love scenes with

Want to know how to enter a low-slung car with all the grace of a Powers Girl? Here's the routine to do it!

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

For A Graceful Entrance . . .

If you, too, want to know how to enter a stepladder car without the contortions of an acrobat but with all the grace of a Powers Girl, just run your car behind a high hedge where you can practice in privacy, and go through the following routine. After a few trials, you'll be able to impress any audience.

To accomplish this feat gracefully, start from a standing position with your body facing in the same direction as the car.

Olivia de Havilland are — to borrow from the jargon of the teenagers—a blast.

Another interesting thing about "Libel" is that its producer and co-author of the script, Anatole de Gruenwald, has moved here and baggage from London on a new MGM contract. He says everything he films in the future will be made in Hollywood (thank goodness!).

P.S. Bogarde's first American-produced movie is Bill Goetz's "Crescendo" (The Franz Liszt Story)—and I can promise you Bill has a big star in Dick.

There is an interesting story about Sherry Jackson, recently of The Danny Thomas Show. She was so eager to get started as a grownup glamor girl that she enlisted the aid of her mother, who wrote a script, and her father, who directed it.

The ambitious young lady was able to get Edd Kookie Byrnes for her leading man. The result was called "The Kookie Kapers" and became a segment of "77 Sunset Strip." The happy ending is that Sherry was signed to a long term contract at Warners and dad got a directing contract too.

My old friend, Andy Herve, who retired from publicity after almost thirty years at MGM and Paramount, was in town for a few days and he has been offered a fabulous deal to press agent five tribes of Indians. Andy took a trip to Colorado to talk to the Colorado River Indians who struck it rich in oil.

These Indians have millions in trust and Pete Romer, former film man, who is president of the five tribes represented, sent for Andy who is very intrigued with the whole thing. He said, "I got along with movie producers, all those years so why shouldn't I be able to get along with the Indians."

School Board Votes To Keep Carver Building

The Allegany County Board of Education Tuesday voted by a four-to-one margin to retain the Carver School building for future educational uses.

The lone member for its use as a County Health Department site was J. Goodloe Jackson, board president.

Kenneth Malcolm, Westernport, the board member who was absent, sent in a letter to the board stating he was for the retention of the facilities on Frederick Street for educational purposes.

On June 24 when the board decided against the consolidation of Carver and Gephart schools, it was decided to close Carver and redistribute the few students who were attending it.

Joseph M. Miller, vice president of the board, stipulated at the meeting that if Carver was to be closed, it should be retained by the school system for at least until September 1, 1960.

Next year, it was pointed out, it may be reopened as a school.

The most crying need for the Cumberland area is a junior college, Miller said. He has been named chairman of the Board of Education committee to further the cause of a junior college in Cumberland.

The school is readily adapted for a junior college, and it could be used in the evenings, and later day classes could be set up, it is claimed.

The two-year college would have the services of top technical persons in the scientific and mechanical and mathematical fields, Miller pointed out.

He pointed to industries such as Allegany Ballistics Laboratory where top rocket engineers and physicists are working; to Amcelle Plant of Celanese Fibers company where chemists and chemical engineers are available, and to Kelly-Springfield Tire Company where engineers and chemists are employed.

Other industries such as Allegany Instrument Company and National Jet Company could furnish experts in this field.

Miller pointed out that the facilities at Frostburg State Teachers College are taxed due to the record enrollment.

Then, too, he added, there is a need for higher education in Cumberland on an evening class basis due to the continued demands of industry for the more highly trained employee.

Organizations in the county will be urged to support this junior college plan, Miller added.

Junior colleges of this type have been operating very successfully in many sections of the state for years.

During a visit of the Legislative Council of the General Assembly to Cumberland three weeks ago, it was pointed out that when a junior college plan was aired before the legislators that outside aid is available for a school of this type.

Miller also added that there would only have to be the installation of a science department to make Carver into a junior college.

Thief Tripped Up

EXETER, England (AP) — A man in a pub tried to sell what he thought was a curious musical instrument. He couldn't play it, but he thought that proper fingering of the little golden knobs would produce a nice tune.

No sale. But someone recognized the object as the crosier, or pastoral staff, stolen from the palace of the bishop of Exeter.

Six months, the judge told the man with the crosier.

Woman Hurt In Auto Crash

An Ellerslie woman was hospitalized Tuesday following a two-car collision near Manne Choice, Pa.

Admitted to Bedford County Memorial Hospital was Mrs. Hazel Viola Ryan, 48, Ellerslie, who was reported in "good" condition yesterday.

Hospital attaches said the woman sustained injuries to her chest and a left shoulder injury.

Pennsylvania State Police at Bedford, who investigated, said the collision occurred at 6:20 p.m. on Pennsylvania Route 96, two miles south of Manns Choice.

Police said Mrs. Ryan was operating a car northbound on the highway and collided with another vehicle being operated by Eugene E. Bohn, 39, RD 1, Buffalo Mills.

Approximately $250 damage was caused to Bohn's vehicle, while an estimated $150 damage was caused to Mrs. Ryan's car.

Police said Bohn is being held in the Bedford County Jail pending a hearing on a motor vehicle charge.

Fourth Degree K Of C Invited To Dedication

Members of Chief Justice Taney General Assembly, Fourth Degree, Knights of Columbus, have been extended an invitation to attend the dedication of the National Shrine of the Immaculate Conception and Knights Tower Friday, November 20, in Washington.

Patrick J. Hopkins, faithful navigator, said last night that cardinals, archbishops and bishops from throughout the United States as well as the supreme director of the Knights of Columbus, supreme officers and directors will attend the ceremony, which will begin at 10:30 a.m.

Francis Cardinal Spellman, who heads a local committee, which includes John Kreidler, George Lovenstein, Frank Werner, of Cumberland; Walter Meade, of Frostburg; James Quinn, of Westport and Carmen Ferro of Martinsburg.

The recently completed Shrine is located at Fourth and Michigan Avenue, N.E., in Washington. Members of the Knights of Columbus throughout the United States contributed $1,000,000 toward the construction of the Knights Tower, part of the new structure.

CCD Officers And Chairmen Are Selected

Officers and division chairmen of the Fraternity of Christian Doctrine of St. Patrick's Catholic Church were announced last night.

Mrs. Joseph Neubiser is president; William Walsh, vice president; Mrs. Frank Werner, secretary; and Miss Sheila Downey, treasurer.

Chairmen are Miss Margaret Blake, teachers; George E. Huff, fishers; Mrs. Gladys Burkey, helpers; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Moyer, parent-educators; Mrs. Mary Emma Blake, discussion groups; and Mrs. Julia Lewis and Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Yockus, apostles of goodwill.

A spokesman for the organization said last night that organized charities, such as the County United Fund, are one of the best means of performing the corporal works of mercy.

It is easy for the poor and unfortunate to be overlooked in a crowd, the spokesman said, adding that some needs are too big for any single person or group to care for.

For this reason all sorts of social agencies for the needy are in operation, including organizations for the wayward, unfortunate and handicapped.

Contribution to any of these agencies is a positive approach to Christian living and the discharge of one's obligations, the spokesman said.

Other methods of practicing the works advocated by the CCD include participation in movements for civic and social betterment, programs to provide better and more adequate housing for low-income families and all kinds of self-help programs.

About one-third of all U. S. farm families now have television sets.

YFC Plans Young Adult Club Here

The Tri-State Youth for Christ is organizing a Young Adult Club which will provide Christian fellowship among college age youth and supplement the basic purpose of the YFC ministry, teen-age evangelism.

The new club, which will meet monthly for various activities, will be launched this month with a banquet in Central YMCA October 27 at 6:30 p.m.

Rev. Robert Collitt, Youth for Christ overseas deputation director, will be the guest speaker. Rev. Mr. Collitt recently directed the highly successful World Youth Congress in Mexico, where 90 per cent of the Protestant churches cooperated.

The regular Tri-State Youth for Christ rally will be held in Centre Street Methodist Church Saturday at 7:45 p.m.

A feature of the rally will be the showing of the YFC film, "Teen-age Rock." The hour-length drama features the typical American teen-ager with the answer to his basic needs.

Jonathon and Peter Gulla, teenage accordionists from Beaver Falls, Pa., will play.

A Bible quiz between Fort Hill and Allegany YFC club teams will also be conducted. The public is invited.

Arrest Procedure To Be Discussed

City officials will meet today with police magistrates to discuss plans for making arrests for traffic violations on city instead of state charges beginning Monday.

The meeting will be held at 10 a.m. in the office of Police Commissioner Philmore Fleming with Police Magistrates Peter J. Carpent and F. Allan Weatherholt.

Also attending will be City Attorney William R. Carscaden and Police Chief B. F. Gaffney.

Wins FFA Award

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Kenneth Lee Kerns of Berkeley Springs, W. Va., Wednesday night won a $200 award for soil and water management.

The award was made by the Future Farmers of America which is holding its 32nd annual convention here.

Let's Not Ignore The Home Front

During the meeting of 68 free world governors of the International Monetary Fund, Secretary Anderson of the U. S. Treasury told the finance experts that the time may come for the U. S. to begin curtailing the outpouring of dollars overseas. It is no secret that many taxpayers are convinced that time has arrived.

Anderson reminded the finance men that the value of American exports exceeds the cost of its imports by $3 billion a year. But the difference is insufficient to offset other payments abroad amounting to $7.5 billion a year.

He called for removal of barriers which in effect amount to discrimination against the United States and other dollar-using countries by nations whose economic recovery has been so great as to make the barriers unnecessary. His recommendation is for curtailment of U. S. loans and grants in aid to foreign countries that now can help themselves.

While American taxpayers fervently long for a lessening of the flow of dollars to overseas points, they likewise would welcome a tapering off in the flow of all sorts of aid along the home front.

More people are gainfully employed, earning higher salaries and wages than ever, and the time is opportune to look into the school lunch program, appropriations for welfare and pensions, various subsidies, additional dams and reservoirs, the fund for unemployment, distribution of free commodities, etc.

The tightening up of the flow of federal generosity in a myriad of directions should apply to the Congressional districts as well as to overseas items.

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

The Conservative Trend

After the excitement of the British elections died down, what appeared beyond doubt is that the huge majority attained by the Conservative Party was not for the party as such but for conservatism as a way of life. It is just as the French people turned to General Charles de Gaulle, the conservative, religious military officer who for years had avoided politics. It is just as when the younger men in West Germany challenged the aged Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, the people supported Adenauer. True, Prime Minister Macmillan is a popular political leader, but in Great Britain so clean a sweep must mean more than personal popularity.

Just as the world is war-weary so is it weary of nostrums and cure-alls. The British Labour Party used to be led by trade unionists, by labor leaders who came up from the mines and from the docks; it has in recent years fallen into the hands of eggheads, professors of economics and of the various social sciences who dogmatically set out to change the world.

Three times in succession, the Labour Party has been defeated and the third defeat shows a reluctance on the part of the voters to favor them except in certain industrial communities. However, the Conservatives could not have polled the vote they did unless workers voted for them. And that is to be noted in the United States as well; when a Republican is elected there must be labor votes to bring him in despite the opposition of the labor leaders.

In a word, it is eggheadism that has been defeated in Great Britain. We must define the term, egghead. This word came out of the recent Presidential campaigns in the United States in which Adlai Stevenson ran on the Democratic ticket. The term egghead identifies political intellectualism with the shape of Stevenson's head—which gives Stevenson a place in history and in the dictionaries. It is an association of the academic with the political, although why Stevenson should have become the prototype of the intellectual is difficult to see.

Political intellectualism in Great Britain goes back a long way. The men of the universities always played their roles in British politics. The philosopher, Thomas Hobbs, might be regarded as the father of such tendencies as express themselves in the New Deal and in the British Labour Party, namely that the power of the state is absolute as against the individual. This dogma is often interpreted as the greatest good for the greatest number, a doctrine which can grind the individual into the dust and often has. It is being combated today in education where a search is being renewed for the bright and studious.

The early theoreticians of the British Labour Party, Beatrice and Sidney Webb, George Bernard Shaw, H. G. Wells, and later Harold Laski were intellectuals who associated themselves with the political side of the trade union movement. Of these the greatest were the Webbs, who were philosophers of Fabian Socialism and who left a permanent mark upon British and American thought.

The trade unionist is generally not concerned so much with theories as with immediate benefits. In Great Britain, this has always been true. Because of the particular nature of the British economy, the British worker knows from long experience that his personal prosperity is entirely dependent upon the state of British trade throughout the world. Under the Macmillan government, Great Britain, for the first time since World War I, is really prosperous. For the first time in many years, British money is sound and the British do not have to worry too much about dependence upon American aid, because they are doing well on their own.

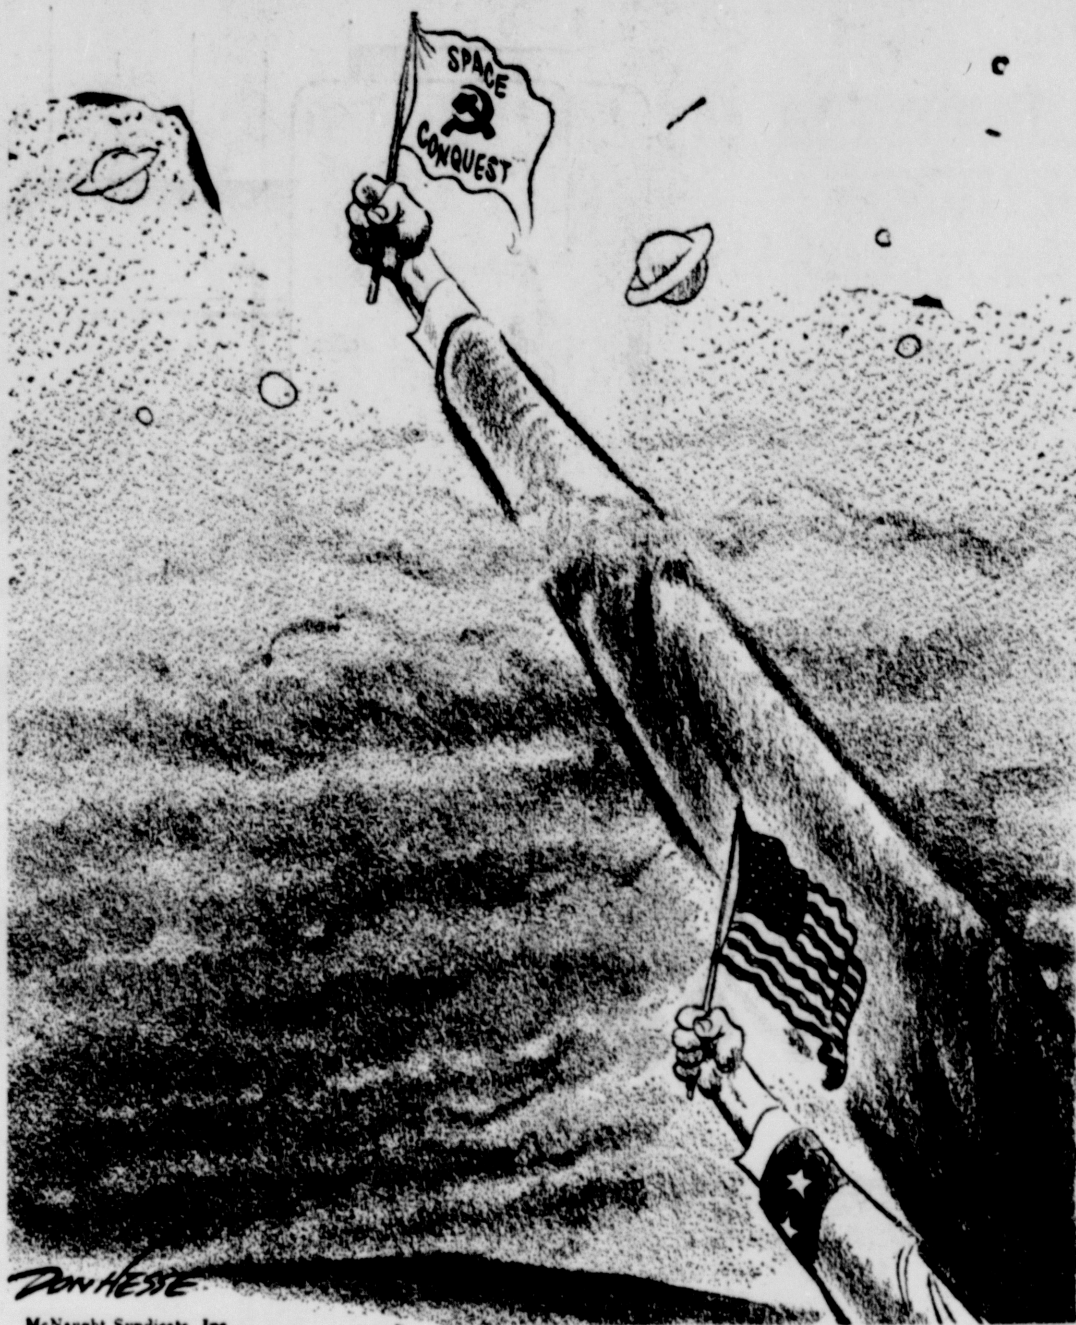

The British Labour Party, under Hugh Gaitskill, could offer the British worker nothing better than he already had. They spoke of the prosperity of Great Britain under Macmillan but they promised that they would share the wealth better. They would distribute it better. The British worker is no fool. He has had his experience with taxing capital until it runs away and he has discovered that no practical device has yet been invented to prevent money from running away. The British worker has lived through inflation and knows what a fraud and a bluff it is. He has seen the pound go down until the soundest currency of the world became a minor currency, dependent upon the American dollar. He has seen the British Empire break up.

"No, thank you!" said the British worker. "We want jobs and we want pay in good currency. We do not want the promise of heaven on Earth, because it never happens."

Of course, the American worker learned that about the New Deal, but he does not yet understand the curse of inflation.

The Peace Issue: A Fraud And A Menace

TOKYO

By Joseph Alsop

Any airplane crossing any ocean always seems to this reporter the nearest thing to Purgatory that a man can know until the end of life gives him the final answers.

Thus some discount should perhaps be made by anyone who troubles to read the following minority report. For it comprises the thoughts this reporter could not banish from his mind on the long air flight to begin another journey of inquiry in the turbulent Far East.

As background, I should say that I first touched home base in Connecticut. There I found that this normally doubtful state had been virtually clinched for Vice President Nixon, because of the meteoric rise in the polls that has resulted from Nixon's trip to Russia and his association with the so-called "peace issue." There did not seem to be a single hand-off left for the rival candidacy of New York's Gov. Nelson Rockefeller.

Then in California, I found the whole state transformed by the "peace issue." The Republicans, who had been so far down, are riding the crest of the wave. The Democrats, who had triumphed so brilliantly in 1958, now accept the evidence of the opinion testers that the "peace issue" has them in second place. Judging by Gov. Pat Brown, moreover, the Democrats hardly seem to know what to do about it.

Then, too, there was the key member of Gov. Brown's staff, who remarked that he feared the rival candidacy of Sen. John F. Kennedy because "Kennedy would start up the old hate-Russia stuff again." There was the national magazine for business executives, which a San Francisco business leader was excited about. The cover emphatically asked "What would Peace Do To You?" and this meant "What would a great cut in defense expenditures do to the profits of American business?" There were many other such signs, as well.

One had not suspected this sort of thing in airless Washington. One had supposed that the Republicans were gaining, simply because many people were pleased by the President's attempt to settle the most acute outstanding problems with the Russians in face to face negotiations with Nikita S. Khrushchev himself. But this is not the real nature of the "peace issue" at the grass roots. The President's and the Republican party's real gain in fact comes from the belief of many people that Eisenhower has now promised the country "peace in our time"—as Neville Chamberlain put it when he came home from Munich to a hysterically, tragically grateful Britain. The President himself has not encouraged this belief. But he certainly has not discouraged it.

Maybe it is being a spoilsport to say so, but in the form it has now taken, the "peace issue" is both a fraud and a menace to all concerned. It is a fraud because the President got nothing from Khrushchev except a promise of negotiations "without fixed time limit." That is already a lot. Yet the promise was qualified by the clause stating that the talks should not be unduly protracted. It is still up to Khrushchev to decide when the talks are being dragged out too long.

It is a fraud, too, because the belief in "peace in our time" must be based on the further belief in Khrushchev's miraculous transformation. Only a little more than a year ago, Khrushchev

Rigged TV Quiz Programs Were Weapons In Frantic Lipstick War

By Drew Pearson

Significantly the Food and Drug Administration has just banned 17 shades of lipstick because they contain coal-tar dyes which are toxic if swallowed. Coal tars can also cause cancer.

Thus the public was doubly fooled. For a rigged TV program, the $64,000 question, was responsible for boosting the sale of lipsticks, of which some colors have now been banned from sale by the Food and Drug Administration.

The lipstick war over television became so frantic that one company charged its wires were tapped by a competitor in order to seal the $64,000 question.

The public had no idea when it watched contestants sweat and ponder over the answers to $64,000 question either that they had been coached, or that wire tapping was involved, or finally that the program was zooming the profits of the lipstick company and forcing two others into the red. That is how potent have been the TV networks and how they have influenced the health and economy of the nation.

The two real contestants in the $64,000 question were not those who appeared in public before the quiz-master, but Raymond Spector, chief owner of the Hazel Bishop Company, and Charles Revlon, head of Revlon.

Spector, an astute advertising man, had taken hold of a bankrupt lipstick company and by spending $1,500,000 on advertising put his lipstick in almost every drugstore in the land. He developed the TV show "This Is Your Life," on which he spent nearly $4,000,000 annually. His profits skyrocketed. In five years he cleared $10,000,000 and became one of the wealthiest men in the advertising business.

Suddenly he lost "This Is Your Life." The network, he claimed, took it away from him. Simultaneously he began flirting with a new show, the $64,000 Question. He was about to sign up for it when out of the clear blue it was grabbed by a competitor, Revlon.

Spector had found strange gave the go-ahead to Mao Tse-tung for the armed attack on Quemoy. Only eight months ago, he started the Berlin crisis with the most naked threats of force. Only two months ago, after accepting the President's invitation to visit this country, he approved the probe in Laos. Forty-eight hours in the pure, inspiring air of Camp David are hardly likely to have remolded such a man in Eisenhower's image.

A fraud, the "peace issue" in its "peace in our time" form is a danger to the country. Falling into wishfulness is always the worst folly for any great country. It is a danger to the President. His negotiations with Khrushchev will be warped and hampered by the grave political pressures generated by wishfulness at home.

Finally, although it will be hard to persuade most Republicans of the fact, the "peace issue" is the gravest kind of long-run danger to the Republican Party. Immense short-run gains can certainly be made by the promotion of wishfulness. When he left office, Stanley Baldwin was probably the most popular Prime Minister Britain had ever had. Baldwin's popularity was then topped by the wave of adulation for Chamberlain after Munich. But not long after that, Baldwin had to be warned not to come up to London, lest he be stoned in the streets; and Chamberlain was literally hooted out of office. Such were the long-run losses.

These are curmudgeonly reminders, no doubt. Escape is the best cure for a curmudgeon. So this reporter now proposes to escape into the past, at Kyoto and Ise where one remembers Genji and the Lady Murasaki instead of Baldwin and Chamberlain.

Inside Washington

By Henry Cathcart

One of the results of the nationwide decennial census to be launched April 1, next year, which will be of high interest here is how close the official tally will compare with the estimated nose counts on the Population or Census Clock which adorns the main lobby of the Department of Commerce building.

The clock reveals the estimate of statisticians that there is a net gain of one American citizen every 11 seconds. This is based on an estimated birth every 7½ seconds, a death every 20 seconds, an immigrant arriving on these shores every 1½ minutes and an emigrant, departing every 20 minutes.

Incidentally, the decennial nose count staged by Uncle Sam was originally authorized by an act of Congress, back in 1790 "for the purpose of allocation of Representatives in Congress." However, it was not until 1902 that the Census Office was made permanent. Before that it was just a project that would be revived every 10 years.

Surgery Can Help Plugged-Up Leg Arteries

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

special dye to outline the artery under X-ray.

These operations carry little risk even though they usually are done on elderly persons. They do not aggravate the disorder — a point in favor of surgery. The results are not always successful but the procedure does not make the obstruction worse.

The stoppage in the artery may be likened to a small river that is plugged by a beaver dam. When a new channel is made to detour the obstruction, the dam stays the same. If the new channel fails to work, the original condition remains unchanged. Surgery seldom is recommended unless easier remedies fail to bring relief. Various drugs and simple procedures are used in an attempt to widen the narrowed passageways and encourage new blood vessels. In this way much needed blood is carried to the foot and leg.

This process takes months to accomplish and it cannot be hastened. Surgery is recommended when the pain cannot be controlled or gangrene is likely to develop.

TOMORROW: More to fear than spooks.

SORE NECK

E. P. writes: Is there any exercise to help tension in the back of the neck and the shoulders?

REPLY

Yes. One exercise is to turn the head as far as possible to the right and then to the left. Next, drop the chin toward the chest and return to an upright position. Try to touch the right shoulder with the right ear and the left shoulder with the left ear. Do each exercise five times and repeat at intervals during the day. In time, a more vigorous type of stretching is recommended, doing the same exercises except that the hands are clasped on top of the head to offer resistance.

TOXIC GOITER

P. W. writes: Is Graves' disease serious?

REPLY

Yes: Graves' disease is an obsolete name for hyperthyroidism, a condition in which the thyroid is overactive. The metabolism of the body is stepped up, leading to weight loss, nervousness, rapid pulse, a feeling of warmth, and protruding eyeballs.

BRONCHITIS AND TB

E. W. writes: Do most people with tuberculosis have bronchitis also?

REPLY

Yes, but bronchitis is not always the earliest sign of tuberculosis. This is the reason why a yearly chest X-ray is recommended, regardless of whether the person is coughing.

SHINGLES

R. N. writes: Is shingles due to a person's mental attitude?

REPLY

No. This disease is a viral infection of the nerve endings of the skin. Send a stamped, addressed envelope for leaflet on shingles.

USE INGENUITY

Mrs. C. H. writes: I am 58 years of age and have an average amount of hair but still I seem to feel the need of a covering for the back of my head, even around the house. If I don't, I start sneezing and sniffing. Have you any suggestions.

REPLY

If you feel more comfortable with a head covering, why not wear one? Today's women employ a wide variety of headgear and if you are ingenious you may be able to start a new fashion with a scarf or other hat trick.

STRETCHING STOMACH

E. D. writes: Does habitual overeating actually increase appetite?

REPLY

No, but it is difficult to overeat without having a good appetite.

To the limit of space questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

leaks in his office. Private conversations and trade secrets had been reported to his competitors. He called in Charles V. Gris, a wire-tap expert, who checked his phones and reported they were tapped. Spector reported this to Frank Hogan, New York district attorney, and there followed a New York prosecution of the wire tapper, John G. "Steve" Broady.

During the course of various wire-tap revelations, including a probe by the New York Joint Legislative Committee, it was revealed that Revlon had been using wire taps extensively. Revlon executives swore that they were merely tapping the wires of their own employees, which was legal. Spector claimed they had tapped his wires to steal the $64,000 Question.

At any rate, Revlon got the $64,000 Question. In 1950, Revlon was doing about $20,000,000 worth of business a year. After it got $64,000 Question, business shot up to around $100,000,000 a year. It made no difference that contestants were coached or fed the answers in advance. The public loved it and bought lipsticks with fervor. Drugstores were so anxious to get Revlon cosmetics that the company forced them to give Revlon 40 per cent of the drugstores' cosmetic display space to keep the Revlon franchise.

Coty, a leading competitor, noted the impact of the TV program in its report to stockholders explaining why it had gone into the red. Hazel Bishop, which had been supplying 30 per cent of the lipstick market, dropped to only 15 per cent—all thanks to The $64,000 Question. Revlon's percentage of the business went up to 40 per cent.

That was the effect of rigged TV programs on one branch of American business. And that is just one phase of the terrific impact of television on American life which Congressional investigators have stumbled into. More will appear in an early column.

NOTE—Now that $64,000 Question has been taken off the air, both Hazel Bishop and Coty are making money again.

The British Lesson

By Leslie Gould

The British experience proves:

1. That when the chips are down the voters will pick private enterprise over socialism.

2. That stock markets perform better under a sound economy than under continued inflation.

For the third time in the last eight years, the British voters have turned down the appeal of the Labor Party, which promised renewed nationalization of industry and inflationary wage increases.

The Macmillan government was returned to power for another five years in a landslide victory on its promise of "peace and prosperity."

The Conservative government has already halted the monetary inflation, with the next promised move against the wage-price spiral. Wage increases must be matched by increased productivity.

The U. S. has yet to move decisively against either inflation—the wage-price spiral or that stemming from government deficit spending.

The two countries—U. S. and Britain—have been having a business boom and soaring stock markets. The U. S. market since August has been having heavy going, while London shares have moved ahead to all time highs on the Macmillan victory.

Up to August the American market boom had been fired chiefly by fears of more inflation, while London had risen up to then and continued to advance for contrary reasons. Britain has succeeded—for more than a year—in checking inflation.

The London market, from the lows of last year, has gained 84.4 per cent, compared to a 57.5 per cent rise in New York to the high 2½ months ago. This year London shares are up 33.7 per cent, compared to 11 per cent in New York. The New York prices take in the August-September sell-off. London had only a minor decline and then went ahead to new all time highs.

The market view currently here is to the cautious side, pending a clearer picture as to the steel dispute's effect on late fall and early winter business. There could be a final-quarter business slowdown.

Conservative American investors are turning more and more to bonds, which for those seeking yield give at least a 1½ per cent better return than high-grade stocks. In addition to the higher yield, there is a chance for some capital gains in bonds.

In London, because of the Conservative victory, the rush is still to buy stocks, and buyers include not only the rich and middle-income classes, but also foreigners—many of whom are Americans.

Macmillan's government has gone a long way to check the inflation. Prices have been stabilized for more than a year. The pound sterling is strong. Probably undervalued in relation to the dollar, London has gained gold. Business is booming and foreign trade has been running in Britain's favor. Last year, for the first time in 100 years, exports of goods actually exceeded imports. Balance before was achieved only through services.

Taxes have been reduced moderately and further cuts are promised for next year.

One of the major objectives of the Conservatives has been to increase capital investment. Interestingly, British expenditures in this field have been proportionately higher than in the U. S.

One of the results of the smashing Conservative victory will be an attack on restrictive union abuses. British industry, confronted with the stiff competition of West Germany and Japan, as well as from the European Common Market, faces the same battle of American enterprises in not allowing labor to price her goods out of the world markets.

Macmillan still has plenty of problems. The European Common Market is one of these. Some British companies have been meeting this by setting up plants on the European mainland. Then there is the Russian trade, which can prove a headache.

The big threat, if the Labor Party had won, was to the international position of the pound sterling. Such a result would have shaken confidence. The line between confidence and doubt is a thin one.

The vote will increase confidence in the pound by bankers around the world.

A new British auto is 20 feet long, costs $26,000. Wow! (That comment goes for both the size and the price.)

The United States mint in Denver, we read, has been forced to go on overtime to answer the rapidly increasing demand for coins. As we always said — it takes money to make money.

Russia has just completed building the world's largest whaling ship, a 44,000-tonner. Should be big enough for the job.

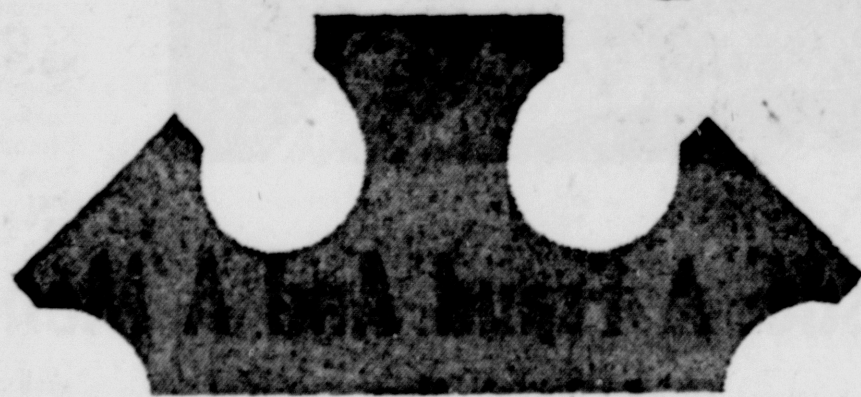

A winning soccer pool ticket in England paid off "for better than $750,000" — news item. What do they mean? — what could be better than $750,000?

Landlocked Switzerland, we read, is planning to enlarge its merchant marine. First thing you know, that country will really need a navy!

John Brown's Centennial Observance Set

Harpers Ferry Plans Four-Day Program

HARPERS FERRY, W. Va. (AP)—This historic town — once the target of John Brown's fateful raid and a see-sawing prize in the Civil War — braced for a four-day invasion of spectators beginning Thursday.

Actually, the observance begins one day before the 100th anniversary of Brown's attack on the federal arsenal on the chill, rainy night of Oct. 16, 1859.

The climactic showpiece will come Saturday, when marines will storm a replica of the fire engine house where Brown was finally captured. They'll haul out an actor dressed like the fiery abolitionist who was wounded in the brief but bloody skirmishing at the fort.

The U. S. Marine Corps' Forney's Battalion will play the role of servicemen who were under command of Col. Robert E. Lee at the time. The battalion, a New Jersey unit under Sgt. Maj. Harry J. Wagner III, is a member of the North-South Skirmish Assn.

Tomorrow's program will feature the premiere of "The Prophet," a three-act play about Brown. It will be staged (8 p.m. EST) at the high school auditorium and will include a cast of 50 with American University drama student Timothy Rice in the lead role.

The Historian's Day luncheon Friday will honor Boyd B. Stutler, a John Brown historian of Charleston. Stutler is a former national adjutant of the American Legion and former commander of the West Virginia department of the Legion.

He will take part in a panel discussion about the controversial raider, along with author J. C. Furnas; Charles Snell, National Park Service historian, and J. Walter Coleman, historian for the Civil War Centennial Commission. Lee Bushong, Historian's Day chairman, will moderate the panel.

J. E. B. Stuart, grandson of the Confederate cavalry leader of the same name, will speak at the luncheon. Stuart is a New York utility executive.

Also scheduled to speak is Sen. Jennings Randolph (D-W. Va.). In addition to the fort-storming Saturday by colorfully dressed marines, spectators will watch a mock North-South scrap between two Maryland units on Sunday.

That will be staged by a Union force known as the Sharpsburg Rifles and a Confederate company from Big Pool and Hagerstown. These "Yanks" and "Rebels" belong to Living History Inc., with headquarters at Big Pool. Its aim, like that of the North-South Skirmish Assn., is to plan and stage demonstrations centering on the Civil War era, with uniforms and weapons approximating those of 100 years ago.

The sham battle will be held in an open, sloping field of Bolivar Heights, located just west of Harpers Ferry.

Another feature of Sunday's program will be the presentation of nearly 800 acres of Maryland to the Harpers Ferry National Monument, a branch of the National Park Service. Director Joseph P. Kaylor of the State Department of Forests and Parks, will transfer ownership of mountainous land known as Maryland Heights — worth about $75,000. It was also beside that Blue Ridge mountain range that Brown threaded his way five miles from the farmhouse where he collected his men and weapons prior to the attack.

A local group of individuals and firms known as Harpers Ferry Area Foundation is sponsoring the centennial observance. There is no occasion for a celebration among local citizens, many of whom are descendants of those who witnessed Brown's 19-man raid. And the Civil War Centennial Commission has not lent financial support or sponsorship to mark Brown's treasonous attack on a federal installation, which the abolitionist intended as a blow against slavery.

Yet, the sponsors are trying to walk a middle ground that will commemorate that moment when the spotlight of history shone on the town, which saw its 2 million dollar arsenal wiped out during the Civil War and has never fully recovered.

The population then was 3,000. Now it is 1,300 to 1,500 here and in adjacent Bolivar.

Lonaconing Women Elect Officers

LONACONING—The Lonaconing Women's Club elected Mrs. June Wattenschmidt as president and Mrs. Anna Dadds treasurer at a meeting on Monday at the VFW home.

"Country Store" was held with Mrs. Betty Thomas, chairman, in charge of the sale of articles.

"Achievement Night" was observed with a display of place mats made of materials including plastics and linoleum.

Sewing displays, canned foods and knitted sweaters were displayed as achievements of club members during the past year.

A donation of $5 was made to the Maude Bean Memorial Book fund. Refreshments were served with the tables decorated for a fall theme, with centerpiece of colorful fruit in woven basket.

Mrs. Mary Wise, home demonstration agent, will speak on "Credit, Friend or Foe" at the meeting in November.

Opening lead: Four of ♦.

In today's hand from a recent tournament every team reached the contract of three no trump.

South showed admirable restraint in containing himself within the limits of three no trump. The deterring influence was the singleton ace of spades, suggesting the danger of lack of entry to the North hand. If North has good spades and a side king, of course he should raise the no trump.

West opened his fourth best diamond. Some players met with failure on this hand when they ducked the first diamond and followed up by ducking again on the return of the suit. West continued with a third round, establishing the ace of spades and all the clubs and rested his hopes on finding the king of hearts with East. He, therefore, played the ace and another. Unfortunately, West produced the king and cashed the setting tricks in diamonds.

In one case declarer brought home the contract on a play which was the essence of simplicity and yet could hardly help but win. East's king of diamonds was permitted to hold the first trick. When the nine was returned South took it. There was no advantage to a further holdup for, if East had another diamond, there would be nothing to fear inasmuch as the defense could run at most three diamonds and a heart. After cashing the ace of spades, he ran off the five club tricks and placed the lead in West's hand with the ten of diamonds. West was able to cash two more tricks in the suit but, by the laws of nature, had to lead either a spade to dummy or a heart into declarer's tenace.

Church Women Hold Session At Somerset

SOMERSET, Pa.—Mrs. V. P. Frohne, LaPorte, Ind., denominational representative elected by the general synod to the national board of the Women's Guild, was the guest speaker at the Somerset Regional Women's Guild fall workshop at St. Paul's United Church of Christ here.

Mrs. Frohne extended greetings from Cleveland and the National Board. She explained how the board has prepared programs and literature so that the local Women's Guilds may more fully understand the guild program as related to the total program of the church.

Miss Mildred Shultz, president at the workshop. The meeting opened with a prelude by Mrs. Mary Meyer. Soloist was Miss Suzanne Judy. Mrs. Harriett Keefe was in charge of the worship program. The theme was "Disciplined for Christian Living." Mrs. Anna Mary Lowry, president of St. Paul's, extended a welcome to the guests.

Mrs. Henry Knieriem prepared a reading recognition service for those persons who have read the required number of books.

Educational workshops were led by Miss Shultz, Mrs. Floyd Keefe, Mrs. W. James Willison, Mrs. Henry Knieriem, Miss LeAnnah Matthews, Mrs. C. O. Bender and Mrs. John Stangarone.

Lunch was served by the host guild. Miss Elaine Swank and Miss LeAnnah Matthews were in charge of the noon fellowship. A gift of maple syrup and sugar cakes was presented to the speaker.

Rev. Richard Shellenberger was in charge of the afternoon devotion. The collection was designated to Camp Shady-side.

Mrs. Frohne's afternoon message continued with the theme "Disciplined for Christian Living." The meeting was closed with prayer and benediction by Rev. Mr. Shellenberger.

Barton Girl Is Bride Of Serviceman

BARTON — Miss Sally Ann Broadwater, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas E. Broadwater, Barton, and Aviation Machinists Mate 3/c Richard Lee Davis, stationed at Anacostia, the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Albert J. Davis of Hutchinson, Kan., were married October 3 in the District Heights Presbyterian church in District Heights.

The double ring ceremony was performed by Rev. James M. Armstrong. The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a three-quarter length gown of white tulle over taffeta, fashioned with a sabrina neckline, three-quarter length sleeves and a net ruffled back sweep with a bustle effect. Her shoulder length veil fell from a tiara of sequins and pearls and she carried a bridal bouquet of stephanotis centered with a white orchid.

Miss Carol Ann Houdersheldt, Washington, D. C., was maid of honor and the bride's only attendant. She was attired in an apricot colored dress and wore a corsage of yellow rosebuds.

Seaman Roger Loveless, U. S. Naval Air Station at Anacostia, served as best man.

A reception was held at the apartment of the bride and bridegroom in Washington. The bride is employed at the Department of Commerce in Washington and the bridegroom is stationed at the Naval Air Station at Anacostia.

Local relatives who attended the wedding included Mrs. Thomas E. Broadwater, Mr. and Mrs. David Clark Sr. and Thomas E. Broadwater, of Barton, and Mrs. Jack Myers, District Heights and a former resident of Barton.

backs, an average of 7.2 yards a return. He is also third in kickoff returning with 97 yards and a 19.4 yard average for five returns. Gibson and Mathis are the only players ranked among the leaders in both categories. Sophomore Chuck Reiley, who understudies Norman Snead as Wake Forest quarterback, picked off two Maryland passes last weekend to take over as the No. 1 man in the conference in pass interceptions. ACC Service Bureau figures show Reiley with three interceptions in four games. Skip Clement of North Carolina and Jim Davidson of Maryland are tied for second with two each.

Alston Is Given Hometown Tribute

DARTTOWN, Ohio (AP) — Walter Alston's friends and neighbors in this little Butler County town—population 200—paid tribute Tuesday night to the manager of the world champion Los Angeles Dodgers. The affair was an open house at the town's only tavern, a few hundred yards from Alston's home. In a brief speech he pointed out he didn't do any playing and added: "It's just nice to have a good ball club on your side."

Terps Scrimmage In Steady Rain

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (AP) — Maryland's football team scrimmaged for an hour in a steady drizzle Wednesday in preparation for its Atlantic Coast Conference game with North Carolina here Saturday. All three units worked on both offense and defense with the emphasis on rushing plays. They will concentrate on passing Thursday.

Loop Grants Interim Post To Treasurer

League To Approve Permanent Head Next January

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — National Football League club owners Wednesday appointed former FBI Agent Austin Gunsel acting league commissioner until the NFL's annual meeting in January. The acting commissioner's first official pronouncements were to the effect that the league's annual player draft would be held Nov. 30, place to be designated later, and that for the time being Bell's salary of $40,000 a year would be paid to his widow. The appointment was expected. It came just several hours after the funeral of former Commissioner Bert Bell, the man who brought Gunsel into the league seven years ago as its chief investigative officer. He was elected NFL treasurer in 1956.

Took Over Duties
Gunsel actually became acting commissioner with Bell's death Sunday under a provision of the league constitution stating the treasurer shall perform the commissioner's duties pending action within 30 days by the club owners.

The effect of Wednesday's interim appointment was to make him a stronger candidate for election at the league meeting. Gunsel's appointment was approved unanimously by the 12 owners, including Edwin J. Anderson of Detroit, prominently mentioned as Bell's successor.

Gunsel, 50, came to the league directly from the FBI, where he served for three years as administrative assistant to J. Edgar Hoover. He worked also in field offices in New York, Detroit and Chicago.

Attend Bell Rites
Before their meeting the 12 owners had been honorary pallbearers at final rites for Bell at St. Margaret's Roman Catholic Church in nearby Narberth. He was buried in Calvary Cemetery, near historic Valley Forge. Bell, 65, died Sunday after suffering a heart attack at the Philadelphia Eagles-Pittsburgh Steelers game here.

Tigers Sign Young Players

DETROIT (UPI) — The Detroit Tigers Wednesday announced that 19-year-old Charles V. Regan, Wayland, Mich., has signed a 1960 contract with Durham, the Tiger affiliate in the Class B Carolina League. Also signed for 1960 were George Jozwik, third baseman from Evanston, Ill., who will join the Decatur team in the Class D Midwest League, and Richard Stauffer, Boyertown, Pa., pitcher, assigned to the Erie club in the Class D New York-Pennsylvania League.

Hockey Games To Be Televised

NEW YORK (UPI) — Eleven National Hockey League games will be televised on Saturday afternoons from Jan. 9 through March 19 by the Columbia Broadcasting System, it was announced Wednesday by William C. McPhail, director of sports for CBS. The New York Rangers will play host to the Detroit Red Wings in the opening TV encounter Jan. 9 at Madison Square Garden.

Rams Tops In Defense

Tech Remains Rushing Leader

BECKLEY, W. Va. (UPI) — Shepherd's football team has vaulted into first place in rushing defense and total defense, in the West Virginia Conference, it was announced Wednesday. The Rams, 2-2 in conference play, have given up only 85.5 yards a game rushing and 122.5 overall to replace Salem and West Virginia Tech, respectively in those two defense categories. West Virginia Tech remained first in rushing offense with 269.5 yards a game in total offense with 364.2 yards. Salem is first in pass offense with 116.8 yards and Fairmont leads in passing defense with 31.3 yards a game. Tech jumped from fourth to second in pass defense, allowing 34.2 yards a game. West Liberty, behind the passing of Jack Schuetz, replaced Tech in second place in pass offense with an average of 100 yards.

Ready For Next Year

MILWAUKEE (AP) — The 1959 baseball campaign is barely ended but some Milwaukee Braves fans are out on a limb with predictions for next year. A brightly lit sign above the entrance of a South Side cafe boldly reads: "Welcome 1960 World Series fans."

Golf Tourney Begins Today

$20,000 At Stake At Mesa Verde

COSTA MESA, Calif. (UPI) — Touring professional golfers take their opening shots Thursday in the 72-hole $20,000 Orange County Open on the new Mesa Verde Country Club course. Fresh from the Hesperia Open played on a desert course at 3,000-foot elevation, the pros find themselves here at sea level not far from the Pacific Ocean. Among name players entered was Ken Venturi, Hillsborough, Calif., who failed to get into the money at Hesperia. This was only the sixth time in Venturi's career that he has failed to pick up some change in a tournament. Also entered were Jack Fleck, the 1955 U.S. Open champion from Tarzana, Calif.; Wes Ellis Jr., Aldecress, N.J., winner of this year's Texas Open; Jay Hebert, the Louisiana bachelor who plays out of Sanford, Fla.; and Gene Littler of El Cajon, Calif.

Many local favorites were entered including little Jerry Barber of Los Angeles who tied for second behind Bob Rosburg, Palo Alto, Calif., in this year's national PGA. Also on hand was Doug Sanders, Miami Beach, Fla., who led the Hesperia Open at the halfway mark and was second after three rounds. But on his final round he took a wild six-over-par 10 on the ninth hole and ended in a tie for tenth place.

Yankees Shift 13 Players

NEW YORK (UPI) — The New York Yankees began the winter re-shuffling of their roster Wednesday night by calling up eight young prospects from the farm system and assigning five other players to their Richmond farm team of the International League. Six of the eight call-ups were pitchers — Bill Short, Johnny James, and Ed Dick from Richmond, Bill Bethel from Omaha of the American Association, George Haney from Kearney, Neb., and Harold Stowe from Fargo, N.D., of the Northern State League. Short had a 17-6 record for Richmond.

Also brought up were outfielder Deron Johnson, who set an International League record with seven homers in the recent playoffs, and first baseman Frank Leja, both from Richmond. Assigned to Richmond were outfielders Gordon Windhorn and Dick Sanders, first baseman Jack Jaciuk, and pitchers Gary Blaylock and Rudy Serrett.

Coaches Released

MILWAUKEE (AP) — The Milwaukee Braves continued their housecleaning in the wake of Manager Fred Haney's resignation by releasing coaches John Fitzpatrick and George Susce Wednesday.

NEW YORK (UPI) — Nine of the nation's top 10 teams figure to hold their ground with victories on this college football weekend. The 10th member of the elite—fourth-ranked Georgia Tech—is the pick here to drop its first game of the season to Auburn on the theory the Engineers are overdue for a bad break or two against Auburn's stout defense. Around the nation:
The East
Syracuse over Holy Cross—Eastern leader scores again.
Penn State over Boston U.—Lucas and Co. too nifty.
Cornell over Yale—Toss-up.
Also: Boston College over Dartmouth, Harvard over Columbia, Pennsylvania over Brown, Rutgers over Bucknell, Delaware over New Hampshire, Connecticut over Maine, Massachusetts over Rhode Island, Princeton over Colgate.
The Midwest
Northwestern over Michigan—Edge up front.
Iowa over Wisconsin—Hawks are back in stride.
Purdue over Ohio State—More bad news for Buckeyes.
Also: Illinois over Minnesota, Notre Dame over Michigan State, Indiana over Nebraska, Oklahoma over Missouri, Kansas over Kansas State, Colorado over Iowa State, Detroit over Xavier, Wichita over Cincinnati, Miami (Ohio), over Villanova.
The South
Auburn over Georgia Tech—But Tech's our handicapping nemesis. Louisiana State over Kentucky—Tiger defense too rugged.
Army over Duke—Belated comeback for Cadets.
Also: Navy over Miami, Tennessee over Alabama, Mississippi State over Georgia, North Carolina over Maryland, Mississippi over Tulane, Florida over Vanderbilt, Pittsburgh over West Virginia, Richmond over the Citadel, George Washington over Furman, Florida State over Memphis State, Virginia Tech over Virginia, VMI over William and Mary, Wake Forest over North Carolina State, The Southwest
Texas over Arkansas—Longhorns to pierce a tight defense.
Southern Methodist over Rice—Overhead with Meredith.
Texas Christian over Texas A&M—Frogs move up.
Also: Texas Tech over Baylor, Oklahoma State over Houston, Tulsa over Hardin-Simmons, New Mexico over Arizona, Mississippi Southern over West Texas State.

Cardinals Set Offense Pace In Pro League

Redskins, Colts
NFL Runners-Up

PHILADELPHIA (UPI)—The Chicago Cardinals are setting the pace in the National Football League total offense race with 1,140 yards, 119 better than runner-up Washington, official statistics showed Wednesday.

The Cardinals, with one victory and two losses so far, gained 455 on the ground and 685 passing. The Redskins earned their 1,021 by rolling up 445 rushing and 576 in the air. Baltimore was third with 1,005 yards.

Overall excellence on the ground was held by Green Bay, which chewed up a high of 574 yards, with San Francisco close behind with 527, followed by Los Angeles' 456.

The Cardinals' 685 yards through passing topped all other teams, but it was only a scant 19 yards better than Pittsburgh's 673. Baltimore ranked in the third slot with 650.

New York held top honors in pass completion with a 60.3 percentage on the basis of 49 successes in 81 attempts. Cleveland was second with 56.8 by clicking 42 times on 74 tosses.

New York was setting the pace in the punting category, averaging 51.8 yards on 16 punts. Philadelphia and Washington trailed the giants with an average of 47.1 each.

The Eagles held sway in point-making with 91. San Francisco was second with 78, five better than third-place Baltimore.

Green Bay and Pittsburgh have proved to be the most tight-fisted in yielding rushing ground to opposite teams. The Packers and Steelers are tied in that department, each having permitted only an average gain of 3.2 yards per try. New York has allowed 3.4.

The champion Colts have the best defensive percentage against passing with 40.5. Green Bay is next with 45.0 followed by Detroit's 45.9.

Hauser Returns To Active List

CHICAGO (UPI)—Defensive tackle Art Hauser was placed on the active roster of the Chicago Cardinals Wednesday.

Hauser was added because of the leg injury of defensive half-back Gary Glick, out for the season.

Boosters To Meet

The Beall High Boosters Club will meet tonight at 8 o'clock at the high school. President Leo McNeil announced last evening. All interested persons are urged to attend, he said, adding that women attended the last meeting for the first time in the history of the club. The meeting two weeks ago also had the largest attendance since the club was organized.

Wins Decision

TOKYO (AP)—Keiichi Ishikawa, Japan's lightweight champion, outpointed Takeo Sugimori, the No. 5 challenger, in a 10-round title bout Wednesday night.

Colby's Roden Out For Season; Shoulder Hurt

WATERVILLE, Maine (UPI)—An injury suffered while protecting a dazed teammate cost star halfback George Roden of Colby his collegiate football career Wednesday.

Doctors ruled that the 175-pound senior from West New York, N.J., co-captain of the team, can no longer play because of the severity of a shoulder separation.

Roden sustained the injury against Williams Oct. 3, during a 42-14 Colby victory in which he starred.

Normally the safety man on Colby's kickoff patterns, Roden went downfield so another halfback, who had been shaken up on the preceding touchdown play, could remain in the safety position.

Roden made the tackle on the play but was injured in the pile-up. He was hospitalized for 10 days.

76 Elevens Have Unblemished Marks

By United Press International

Mississippi, Pennsylvania, and Yale—three major colleges which have yet to yield a single point—top a list of 76 unbeaten and untied football teams in the nation.

Twenty teams classed as major by the NCAA were included on the elite list, compiled by United Press International at approximately the conclusion of the first month of the 1959 gridiron season. Mississippi, which romped to a 33-0 victory over Vanderbilt in its last game, has scored 108 points in four games while holding rivals scoreless. Pennsylvania, surprise package of the Ivy League, has tallied 57 points in three games while Yale, an Ivy League rival, has scored 51 points in three.

Tops in wins among perfect-record squads are three small college teams—Huron College of South Dakota, Lamar (Tex.) Tech, and Los Angeles state—each with five victories.

National champion Louisiana State, with four triumphs, also is on the blue-ribbon list, while other major colleges include North Texas State, Washington, Penn State, Texas, Oregon, Arkansas, Georgia Tech, Arizona State U., Syracuse, Air Force Academy, Southern California, Wichita, Northwestern, Holy Cross, Cornell University, and Rutgers.

Perfect record teams with four triumphs included Geneva (Pa.), West Virginia Tech, Salem (W.Va.), Clarion (Pa.) Teachers and Fairmont (W.Va.).

Teams who have swept through three games with an unblemished record include Capital (Ohio), Ohio University, Bowling Green (Ohio), West Chester (Pa.) Teachers, Juniata (Pa.), Albright (Pa.), Rutgers, Lock Haven (Pa.) Teachers and Carnegie Tech.

Teams with two victories include Susquehanna (Pa.), Johns Hopkins (Md.), John Carroll (Ohio) and Western Reserve.

Acetates Hike Celanese Lead

The Acetates increased their lead in the Celanese Staff Bowling League last night by sweeping three games from the Fortians while the Arnels won 2-1 from the Celanese.

High scorers were Byron Bonebrake, 357, and Donna Dick, 343. Acetates: Millie Twigg, 430, and Alvin Serf, 379. Fortians: DeLores Frazee, 412, and Bud Dickert, 365. Arnels: Pat Paddelford, 435, and Marguerite Mullan, 370, for the Celanese. The standings:

Leahy Named Manager Of LA Grid Team

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Frank Leahy, former Notre Dame coach, has been signed as general manager of the Los Angeles club of the new American Professional football league, the club announced Wednesday.

The news came as no surprise. Last month the president of the club, Barron Hilton, disclosed that Leahy had been offered the position.

Hilton declined to disclose salary terms but it is believed Leahy will be paid around $50,000 a year. Leahy quit the Notre Dame job after the 1953 season. His term at South Bend started in 1941. His record was 87 won, 11 lost, and 9 tied.

Twilight Bowling League To Open

The newly-formed Twilight Ten Pin Bowling League will open its split season with a pair of games on the Barton alleys tonight. Barton will oppose Pekin at 7 p. m. while Lonaconing and Franklin clash in the 9 p. m. match.

The teams will bowl every Thursday during the 72-game season. The first half will close on January 7 and the second half will end on March 31. Winners of each half will vie for the championship in a playoff series in April.

The teams bowled for averages last week and Pekin was admitted to the circuit to replace Westport. Teams will carry eight to 10 players.

"Casey" Hickey

CHAPEL HILL, N. C.—The campus newspaper, The Daily Tar Heel, refers to Coach Jim Hickey as the "Casey Stengel of the gridiron." Stengel is noted for his highly successful lineup juggling tactics on the baseball diamond... and Hickey has won two straight ball games doing same.

Anisado Wins Glen Riddle By Eight Lengths

NEW YORK (UPI)—Anisado galloped to one of the greatest victory margins of his career on Wednesday when he beat Wildfire II by eight lengths in the $10,000 Glen Riddle Handicap at Aqueduct.

Champion Jockey Willie Shoemaker had the five-year-old brown horse in front by three lengths entering the stretch of the mile and five-sixteenths race. Wildfire II could do nothing but watch Anisado's fading hoofs as the winner finished the trip in 2:10 2-5.

Ivy Leaguer finished six lengths back of Wildfire II. Anisado, winless since his Tannoran Handicap triumph at Tannoran last May, paid $4.00 and $2.90 for his third win in 14 outings. There was no show betting.

Lucky In Golf, Makes Him Pro

BELLINGHAM, Wash. (AP)—Because he was lucky at golf, Bud Bloch can't play basketball at Western Washington College unless he gives back the $100 he won.

Bloch picked up the C-note in a hole-in-one contest last August. The Evergreen Conference has ruled that acceptance of the prize would make Bloch a professional in any sport.

Basketball Coach Jack Hubbard said Bloch would forfeit the $100.

Former WVU Athlete Dies

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP)—Carl Lewis Davis, all-time athletic standout at West Virginia University who became a prominent attorney, died in his sleep Tuesday night. He was 56.

Davis had been under treatment by a heart specialist but remained active.

He was a star football tackle at the university, playing on the only undefeated team in 1922, and also was an outstanding track performer.

Surviving are his widow, the former Elizabeth Brandenburg of Washington, D. C., and two daughters, Mrs. Paul H. Witting of La Crescenta, Calif., and Miss Susan Davis of Morgantown.

Hunting Mishaps Show Increase

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP)—Hunting accidents reported to the Conservation Department increased to 41 Wednesday against 18 listed in the comparable date a year ago.

The total included six deaths, two of which were attributed to heart attacks. The figure also included five accidents before the opening of the new season Oct. 3. Reports showed that the mistaking of other hunters for game has been the predominant cause of shooting mishaps.

Ranked First

NEW YORK (AP)—Ben Heckscher, the national amateur champion from Philadelphia, Wednesday was ranked first in the 1959 rankings by the U.S. Squash Racquets Assn. He was the college champion while at Harvard in 1956-57. Mrs. W. Pepper Constable of Princeton topped the women's rankings made up by the U.S. Women's Squash Racquets Assn.

Lucas Is AP Best Back

Starred In State's Defeat Of Army

By MURRAY ROSE

Associated Press Sports Writer

Richie Lucas, Penn State's gifted quarterback, Wednesday was named back of the week in the Associated Press' poll for his outstanding offensive and defensive play in leading the unbeaten Nittany Lions to their first victory over Army in 60 years.

The 21-year-old, 6-1 185-pound senior from Glassport, Pa., scored two touchdowns, twice intercepted important passes, one in the closing minutes of the game, and made several vital open field tackles.

In addition he passed for 97 yards and ran for 60 more in the 17-11 victory at West Point Saturday.

"A great game by a great player," was the comment of the Army coaching staff as well as the press box experts. They were unanimous in picking him as the outstanding back on the field.

With all his brilliance, Lucas was pressed for the honor by a horde of other backs across the nation.

Other standouts in major games included Georgia Tech's Tax Anderson; Purdue's Bernie Allen; Louisiana State's Billy Cannon; North Carolina's Jack Cummings; Ivan Tonic, Pittsburgh; Bob Eickhoff, Northwestern; Art Baker, Syracuse; Rene Ramirez and Jim Saxton, Texas; Prentice Gault, Oklahoma; Rich Mayo, Air Force Academy, and Mel Meyers of Illinois.

Maxie Baughan, captain and center of Georgia Tech, was chosen the AP's lineman of the week. Baughan and fullback Anderson were the outstanding players in Tech's 14-7 triumph over Tennessee.

Crisler Denies He's New League Head

DETROIT (AP)—H.O. (Fritz) Crisler, athletic director at the university of Michigan, Wednesday denied a published report he has agreed to become commissioner of the new American Professional Football League.

He was reached by phone at a Beverly Hills hotel. Crisler went to California Monday night and conferred Tuesday with officials of the new pro league.

The Detroit News said Wednesday that Crisler would head the new league. It said he had accepted the job at a salary of $50,000 a year.

A Glitter Wins Feature Event At Garden State Park

CAMDEN, N.J. (UPI)—Calumet Farm's A Glitter, trying to regain the reputation he held as a top three-year-old in 1958, drew away in the stretch Wednesday to win the feature allowance race at Garden State Park.

A Glitter, winner in seven of 17 starts last year, won his second race in 14 outings for 1959 as he defeated Miss J. G. by a length and one-quarter over a six-furlong strip.

Edna Allen, never in contention, finished five lengths farther back in third place.

A Glitter returned $4.00, $2.80 and $2.20 for her clocking of 1:13 1-5 over a sloppy track.

$15.60 Double At Shenandoah

CHARLES TOWN, W. Va. (AP)—Kelicon and Fleeting Will splashed through the mud of Shenandoah Downs Wednesday night to ring up a $15.60 daily double payoff, one of the shortest since this night track began operations.

Jockey Joe French, who rode three winners Tuesday night, continued his pursuit of leading rider, Frank Northcutt bringing the two year old Kelicon home in the first race at a $5.40 straight payoff.

Fausto Rivera won the second race with Peter DePaul's six year old Fleeting Will at an identical $5.40 mutual.

Orioles Purchase Three Players

BALTIMORE, Md. (UPI)—The Baltimore Orioles have bought the contracts of three 18-year-old players from the Bluefield, W.Va., club of the Appalachian League. General Manager Lee MacPhail announced Wednesday.

They are pitchers Arnie Thorndland, of Teaneck, N.J., and Dean Chance, of Wooster, Ohio, and outfielder-catcher John Powell, of Key West, Fla.

Home Starts Drop

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Fewer Americans started construction of new homes in September for the second straight month, the Commerce Department reported Wednesday. Officials attributed the decline to rising interest rates and a tight supply of mortgage money.

There are pencils especially designed to write on white hot steel.

NEAT TRICK

ST. CATHERINES, Ont. (UPI)—Cabbies in St. Catherine's will have that well-scrubbed look from now on—or else.
City police were ordered to see to it that the city's 55 taxi drivers report to work clean-shaven, wear chauffeur's caps with badges prominently displayed, have shoes shined and wear pants that are pressed and shirts buttoned at least to within one button from the neck.

Singer On Mend

PARIS (AP)—French blues singer Edith Piaf was released from a hospital Wednesday after recovering from abdominal surgery.

Mining is one of man's oldest industries. Some eight thousand workers, for instance, were once employed in the sixth millennium B. C., in copper and turquoise mines in the Sinai peninsula.

In Memoriam

In memory of our loving Daughter, Mother, Sister, Mrs. Mary E. Emerick, who passed away four years ago, October 15, 1955.

October brings sad memories of a daughter we loved so dear. She will never be forgotten. By the ones that love her so.

Police Unable To Petition In Uniform

Solicitations Also Included

Members of the Cumberland Police Department may circulate referendum petitions the same as any other citizens, but not while they are on duty or in uniform.

That is the principal point made in a memorandum issued yesterday by Police and Fire Commissioner Philmore Fleming to Police Chief B. F. Gaffney.

Mr. Fleming also said the same rule will apply to solicitations, memberships, sale of tickets and the like.

The order, which was posted on bulletin boards and read to all platoons, said:

"It has been brought to my attention that some members of the Police Department may be in favor of circulating a petition for a referendum, in connection with Charter Amendment Resolution No. 12.

Must Be Off Duty

"Members of the Police and Fire Departments, all of whom are residents of the City of Cumberland, have a right to ask a referendum, just the same as any other citizen, in connection with any Charter Amendment Resolution passed by the Mayor and Council.

"Kindly advise all members that such petitions may not be distributed while on duty or while an officer is in uniform. Such petitions must be circulated while 'off duty' and out of uniform."

"I am sure that the persons asked to sign such petitions would feel much better and probably be more inclined to sign such petitions if they felt there were no pressure whatsoever being brought upon them by an officer in uniform."

The order, he added, "not only applies to referendums but also to solicitations, memberships, sale of tickets, etc."

Two Groups Oppose

The Police and Firemen's Welfare Association yesterday entered a protest to the Mayor and Council to Charter Amendment Resolution No. 12, passed September 21, saying it would remove the charter requirement that before a person may become a member of the Police or Fire Department, he must have been a resident of the city for three years.

It said this and a rule which would allow a person with the required years of experience on an out-of-town department to qualify for the post of chief or officer in either the Police or Fire department lessens the incentive for the local men to continue in police or fire careers.

On Monday, the attorney for the local Fraternal Order of Police lodge opposed the resolution, saying it would allow an out-of-state resident to work here 13 months before becoming a resident.

Case Not Taken Before Jury Due To Illness

State's Attorney James S. Getty said yesterday the case against a former union business agent on a charge of embezzlement was not presented to this term of the grand jury.

Mr. Getty said the case against George Edward Clark, Short Gap, who was charged with embezzling $12,851.25 from Local 568, International Association of Bridge, Structural and Ornamental Iron Workers, was not presented to the grand jury due to the illness of County Investigator Edwin R. Lilya.

Mr. Lilya, who spent three months compiling records in the case and is one of the chief witnesses, was taken ill September 5 and still is a patient in Memorial Hospital.

Mr. Getty said he would either wait until the next term of the grand jury or approach the Circuit Court for the purpose of reconvening the grand jury.

He said he explained to the grand jury last week why the scheduled case against Clark was not presented.

Clark was arrested in May and has been released on $1,500 bond pending action of the grand jury.

Out-Of-State Men Indicted In Burglary Try

Criminal Appeals Start Tuesday

An indictment charging three out-of-state men with conspiracy to break and enter the Montgomery Ward store here was placed on the open docket in Allegany County Circuit Court yesterday.

Named in the indictment were Albert Samuel Wright, 42, Newport, Ky.; Andrew Forkes, 51, Phoenix, Ariz., and Charles Isaac, 32, also of Newport.

They were arrested by city police about 10:45 p.m. August 27 in the vicinity of the Montgomery Ward store. Held overnight in the City Jail, they were transferred the next day to the County Jail. Later that day they gained their freedom under $500 bonds.

State's Attorney James S. Getty said yesterday that the three men are scheduled for trial next Monday.

Criminal appeals are on the docket for Tuesday and Wednesday of next week. A highlight of the Tuesday trials is expected to be the case against William Van Buskirk, charged with possession of whisky on which no tax had been paid and possession of apparatus for the manufacture of whisky.

Other defendants scheduled for Tuesday criminal appeals trials are Frederick J. Taylor, charged with assault; Robert W. Scell, Robert R. Warnick and William F. May, all charged with motor vehicle violations.

Among the cases scheduled for Wednesday are three against Joseph Lee Wallizer, charged with using a deerlick to hunt deer, hunting without a license and hunting deer in closed season. Driving charges will be faced by William W. Flanagan and Allen Raymond Martz. Louis Arnone, John Riley Welsh, Ronald Norman Collins and Chester Leroy Collins are docketed on non-support charges. Oscar May is scheduled for trial on charges of contributing to delinquency, non-support and neglect.

Public Schools Close Two Days For Convention

Allegany County's 16,000 plus public school children are enjoying the first holiday of the 1959-60 school year because of the annual State Teachers Association convention in Baltimore.

For most of the youngsters it is a time for leisure.

However, 30 high school students with special talent in vocal or instrumental music are busy in Baltimore. They are members of the All-State chorus, band and orchestra. They left here Tuesday and began rehearsals in Baltimore yesterday.

Cooking School Opens Here Tuesday Morning

The Times-News is completing plans for the four-day Kitchen Classics Cooking School which opens at 9:15 a.m. Tuesday, October 20 at the Strand Theater.

Every woman who attends the cooking school will receive a book containing recipes used during the event, in addition to other valuable information on cookery. Many prizes also will be given away.

Miss Janice Plager of Austin, Minn., home economist, is lecturer for the school which is being conducted in cooperation with the National Live Stock and Meat Board.

She will present valuable and useful information as if she were swapping recipes with the listener over the kitchen table.

He also has appeared in three other plays sponsored by the local theatrical group.

Evangelism Program Is Continuing

The second phase of the visitation-preaching-evangelism program has been started by First Christian Church, 312 Bedford Street, Rev. Ralph Burnette, minister, said last night.

A preaching mission will be held November 15-22 with Rev. Dr. John W. Frye, national evangelist of Christian Churches, in charge.

This Sunday is Laymen's Sunday at the church and will provide an opportunity for laymen to plan the service and conduct the worship.

The theme will be "You Have Been Called." Otis Bennett Sr. and Ralph Doak will speak at the morning service, which will begin at 10:40.

Firemen Check Two Flue Fires

Two calls received by city firemen yesterday turned out to be flue fires.

At 2:28 p.m. firemen from Central station were called to 221 Hay Street. South End firemen were called at 5:27 p.m. and checked a flue fire at Fifth Street and Grand Avenue.

Plant Operation Discussed At Lake Gordon

Jammed Gate Valve One Of Top Subjects

Proposed changes in the operation of the Lake Gordon filter plant were discussed yesterday as officials of the City of Cumberland, Maryland and Pennsylvania met at the site.

The meeting was requested by Franklin J. Blaney, assistant city engineer for sanitation, to discuss a number of operational problems designed to boost the quality of the water and extend the life of the filter plant.

Attending were Peter C. Dodge and Charles W. Snyder, from the Maryland Health Department; Harry A. DeWire, district engineer for the Pennsylvania Health Department; City Engineer C. R. Nuzum; Ray Nixon, maintenance foreman; Dr. Ton van Strien, county health officer, and J. Byron Dowling, senior sanitarian for the county health unit.

The top subject, Mr. Blaney reported, was the possibility and probability of the rehabilitation of the gate chamber at Lake Gordon.

The gates jammed soon after the dam was built and were cemented shut, denying the city the use of a 50-day supply of water until they are placed in operation again.

A plan for controlling the rate of wash water facilities was also discussed, Mr. Blaney said. He added that the major trouble now is that vacuum is damaging the vanes of pumps.

Better control of the flow of wash water, he added, is needed to prevent the top layer of an-thracite filter material from being washed away.

The water experts agreed, he said, on a plan to reduce the loss of head through the filters by raising the level of water in clear wells.

There was also agreement on the most effective way to operate chemical feeding units and the plant's two contact basins.

Proposes Small Dams

Mr. Blaney also discussed the possibility of making a survey, by profile and cross section, of the tributaries which feed the two city reservoirs.

Such data, it was explained, would be useful if a plan could be adopted for a series of small reservoirs on the feeder streams, possibly with Soil Conservation Service help.

Such a plan would reduce erosion and at the same time hold water back until it is needed.

The engineers also discussed the probability that the bottom of Lake Gordon and Lake Koon are becoming heavily silted.

The staff of the plant, Mr. Blaney said, plans to make a survey near the face of Lake Gordon to determine the present bottom.

The measurements will give a clue to the extent of silting, as data is available on the elevation of major points when the dam was built.

Md. Teachers' Convention Begins Today

Higher Salaries Will Be Advocated

BALTIMORE (AP)—Thousands of Maryland school teachers flock into Baltimore for their annual convention Thursday and they'll be talking money as usual.

The legislative committee of the Maryland State Teachers Assn. is expected to recommend establishment of a minimum salary scale of $4,000 to $6,000 a year for degree-certified teachers.

Also expected to get the committee's support are recommendations of the State Board of Education for increased facilities and higher faculty salaries at Maryland's five state teacher colleges.

Public school teachers came away from the 1959 session of the General Assembly empty handed. A pay raise proposal spread over a four-year span died in the final hours of the session.

The new recommendation would give the teachers the same money over a two-year period, an average of $478 a year per teacher. It would cost more than 15½ million dollars as outlined last summer by Milton C. Raver, association executive secretary.

The proposed $4,000 to $6,000 minimum compares with a present minimum of $3,200 to $5,000.

The 1958 General Assembly gave teachers a pay raise averaging $400 a year.

One of the speakers at the convention, which runs through Saturday, is Eric Johnston, president of the Motion Picture Assn.

Youths Guilty In Railway Case

Five Lonaconing boys were found guilty of being delinquent minors yesterday in Juvenile Court in connection with the destruction of property of the Western Maryland Railway.

However, Magistrate Louis A. Fatkin withheld sentence in the case for a period of three months. He also ordered the boys to make restitution to the railway company for the damage caused.

The youths, who range in age from 12 to 16, were arrested by Lt. Bernard Beaky of the Western Maryland Police Department for trespassing and destroying property.

Lt. Beaky said the boys had been stealing coal from railroad cars and also cut loose a coal car which smashed into a dead-end stop at the end of the tracks.

Four Hurt When Car Hits Cow Near Hyndman

Four members of a Ridgeley area family were treated at Memorial Hospital last night for injuries sustained when their car ran into a cow about a half mile south of Hyndman, Pa. on Route 96. The cow, owned by I. Z. Shaffer, of near Hyndman, had to be destroyed.

Alvin Deremer, driver of the car, sustained an injury to his jaw; his wife, Shelia, sustained a laceration of her nose, abrasion of her forehead and arm; a son, Terry, 10, bumped his head on the dashboard, and a 21-month-old son, Kevin, sustained a swollen upper lip.

Mrs. Deremer, attaches said, is to report back to the hospital today for X-rays.

PEGGY THOMPSON

Local Girl Is Soloist In Concert

Miss Peggy Thompson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. Findley Thompson, 540 Rose Hill Avenue, who is a senior student at Eastman School of Music, Rochester, N. Y., will appear Friday in a concert at the school.

Last spring, Miss Thompson was auditioned by a jury composed of faculty members at Eastman, which is a part of the University of Rochester. As a result of her musical talent displayed before this jury, she was chosen to appear in concert tomorrow night with the Eastman Rochester Orchestra on the Concerto Program and Recital. She will receive the coveted performer's certificate in trumpet.

Well known in local music circles, Miss Thompson played in the school band and school orchestra at Allegany High School and also played trumpet in the Cumberland Civic Orchestra. She has appeared as soloist and with ensembles throughout the Tri-State Area on numerous occasions.

Since enrolling at Eastman, she has devoted all her time to studying as well as teaching music. Last year she was named a student-teacher in trumpet. She has played first trumpet in the Eastman School Orchestra, and for three years played in the Eastman Symphony Band.

She is a member of Sigma Alpha Iota musical fraternity for women, and is conductor for this group. She is also a member of the Music Educators National Conference and was treasurer of the group for two years. She is a member of the Eastman Philharmonia.

The Eastman Rochester Orchestra with which she will appear tomorrow night is made up of faculty members of Eastman School of Music and members of the Rochester Philharmonic. She will play "Concerto In A flat Minor for Trumpet" by Bernard Fitzgerald.

Miss Thompson expects to graduate in January.

Columbus Day Dance Planned By Knights

A Columbus Day dance will be held tomorrow night at the home of Cumberland Council 586, Knights of Columbus.

Raymond Wempe, council social activities chairman, said Tommy Smithem and his orchestra will furnish music for dancing in the third floor ballroom.

The Billy Jean Trio will play music in the second floor cocktail lounge. Members and friends are invited to attend.

Salvation Army Board Will Meet

The Salvation Army Advisory Board will meet Monday at 12:15 p.m. at the Fort Cumberland Hotel for its monthly meeting.

Captain Fred B. Overton, the new commanding officer here, will have his second opportunity to meet the members of the board next Monday. A number of items of important business are expected for consideration.

Woman Hurt In Two-Car Crash Here

Auto Flipped Over At Intersection

A 52-year-old local woman was taken to Memorial Hospital last night with a head injury sustained in a rather spectacular two-car collision at the intersection of Grand Avenue and Second Street in South Cumberland.

Mrs. Blanche Poole, of Roberts Street Extended, a passenger in one of the cars which was flipped over on its top, was treated and released. Four other persons apparently escaped injury, police said.

They are John S. Poole, 28, Roberts Street Extended driver of the car in which his mother was riding; his niece, Edna Youngblood, 14, a passenger in the car; Oscar D. Malcolm Jr., 17, of Paw Paw, W. Va., driver of the other car, and Ronald Hawarth, 16, of Oldtown, a passenger in the car.

City Police Officers James Swann and Donald Davis, who investigated the accident which occurred about 8:15 p.m. gave this account:

Malcolm, who was driving east on Second Street failed to see the stop sign at the intersection and rammed the side of the car driven south on Grand Avenue by Poole. The Poole car was flipped over on its top and landed on the grass between the curb and sidewalk near the intersection. Both cars were heavily damaged.

South End firemen were called to hose down the gasoline which spilled onto the street. Mrs. Poole was taken to the hospital in the police cruiser.

Police indicated they will charge Malcolm with failure to give the right of way at the intersection.

Destruction Of Natural Beauty Charged

The Potomac Edison Company was pictured by three hunters as a destroyer of natural beauty in a $3,000 damage suit filed yesterday in Allegany County Circuit Court.

Louis Joseph Winkler, Paul Charles Winkler and Arthur E. Stricklin, through Attorney Fred H. Anderson, brought the action against the utility.

The three plaintiffs stated that they are the owners of a tract of land near Little Orleans on which they had begun to build a hunting lodge. On or about May 28, they contend, Potomac Edison agents came upon their land and stripped off all trees and foliage, thereby depriving them of the natural beauty they had enjoyed at their hunting lodge site.

In another unusual action yesterday, a Piedmont woman was blamed for a McMullen Highway accident because she stopped her car on the highway.

Robert Showalter of McCoole, through Attorney Edward J. Ryan, charged that Mary Wills of Second Street, Piedmont, had improperly stopped on McMullen Highway while headed toward Keyser on September 7. The McCoole man said that he was driving at a legal speed but could not stop in time to keep from hitting the woman's car because she was around a curve and he could not see her car until almost upon it. He asks for $600 damages.

Survey Taking Volunteers

The Allegany County Chapter of the American Cancer Society is accepting requests from persons who wish to take part in the six-year cancer prevention study which is being conducted now throughout the county.

Mrs. Lucile Roeder, chairman for the survey, said the study is not being conducted on a door-to-door basis, but everyone has an opportunity to take part in the survey.

Mrs. Roeder said persons interested in filling out a questionnaire should contact the chapter's office at PA 2-2145. One of the 150 research workers then will contact the family with the necessary forms.

The purpose of the survey is to determine why some people are more likely to get cancer than others.

In order to qualify for the questionnaires, there must be at least one person in the family over 45 years of age. Only members of these families over the age of 30 will be asked to fill out the questionnaire.
